

19 KILLED IN AIR, ROADS AND LAKES

"NOT GUILTY," IS CLEAR PLEA OF DR. SNOOK

For July 22—Early Date
Is Protested.

By James L. Kilgallen
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, O., June 24.—Dr.
James H. Snook, confessed slayer
of Miss Theora K. Hix, attractive 24-year-old Ohio State university co-ed, today pleaded "not guilty"
when arraigned in criminal court.
Date for his trial was set by Judge Robert Duncan for July 22.
The "not guilty" plea by Snook
was made in spite of the fact that he had signed, after an eighteen hour police grilling, a formal confession that he had killed the girl on the night of June 18 "because she had threatened to kill his wife and baby."

VOICE CLEAR, FIRM
The ex-college professor was handcuffed to another prisoner, also accused of murder, when he was arraigned.
"What is your plea—guilty or not guilty?" asked Judge Duncan, addressing Snook.
"Not guilty," replied Snook in a clear, firm voice.

Prosecuting Attorney John J.
Chester then announced that an agreement had been reached with
the judges of the court of common pleas to set the defendants trial for July 22.

Objection was immediately made by E. O. Ricketts, of council for Snook. He said that the date was too soon and would not give defense counsel sufficient time to prepare their case.

"I believe you will have ample time," replied the judge, overrul-ing the objection.

SEES VENUE CHANGE
Council for Snook later announced that before the date of the trial he will file a motion for a change of venue on the ground that it would be impossible for the defendant to obtain a fair trial in Franklin county because of the condition of public sentiment.

The courtroom was crowded to capacity for the Snook arrangement and a large crowd milled in the corridors outside.

Snook and 16 other prisoners were brought by deputy sheriffs
to an ante-room adjoining the courtroom shortly after 9 o'clock.
Snook was handcuffed to another
slayer, Albert C. Gunning of Columbus, who is charged with shooting his wife to death while they were automobile riding.

Snook sat down when Prosecutor Chester announced that an agreement had been reached with
the judges as to the date of the

HORST KIDNAPERS GIVEN NEW TRIAL

WOOSTER, O., June 24.—Elias and Arthur Anold, 63-year-old and 17-year-old son, now serving terms in Ohio penal institutions for the mysterious disappearance of Melvin Horst, 4, Orrville, were today granted a new trial, according to a decision of the court of appeals here.

Melvin Horst disappeared from the streets of Orrville on the night of December 27, and has neither been seen nor heard from since.
He is believed by authorities to be dead.

CHARLIE MAY WED AGAIN

Speculation on the possibility of marriage between Charlie

Reports of Abandoned Plane and Red Flare Only Clues To Spanish Flyers

Azores—Light Is Seen
In Mid-ocean.

LONDON, June 24.—A wireless message received in Madrid from an unknown source states that a steamer named Magallanes has found an abandoned hydroplane, believed to be that of Major Ramon Franco, about 100 miles from the Azores, according to an exchange of telegraph message from Madrid today.

The dispatch adds that there is no official confirmation of the report, although efforts are being made to verify its source.

Four Spanish destroyers have been sent out from Ferrol to search for Major Franco, who
with three companions is missing on an attempted flight across the Atlantic by way of the Azores.

RED FLARE IS SEEN
NEW YORK, June 24.—A red
flare sighted in mid-ocean halfway between the Azores and New York by an American freighter may solve the mystery surrounding the whereabouts of the Spanish
trans-Atlantic fliers, Major Ramon Franco and his three companions,
it was believed today.

The flare was sighted by the S.
S. Buffalo Bridge at 5:40 a. m.
Greenwich Meridian time, (12:40
a. m. New York daylight time), Sunday, when the ship was approximately 1,400 miles east of New York and 540 miles southeast of Cape Race, N. F., according to a radio message received by the Radio Marine corporation here.

According to the Buffalo Bridge's message the ship's position was 40.04 north latitude and 50.57 west longitude when the flare was sighted.

The message did not state whether or not the ship stopped
to investigate the source of the flare or proceeded on its course.

The Buffalo Bridge owned and operated by the Charles Nelson
Co. of San Francisco, Cal.

ONE HOP THEORY
The sighting of the flare gave rise to the theory that the fliers, who were due at the Azores two days ago, might have decided to continue past those islands in the hope of making the American mainland in one hop.

After many reports that they
had landed on an outlying island
of the Azores failed to find confirmation, the belief that the fliers had continued beyond the Azores found credence in Spain.

It was believed possible that having consumed less gas than

they expected to on the first part of their flight, the fliers daringly
decided to chance the risk of continuing to America on what fuel remained.

According to this theory, the fliers managed to push on to a point about halfway to America
before finding they had bitten off more than they could chew and
hence sent up the flares sighted
by the Buffalo Bridge.

BUTTER, EGG REPORT MADE

Large Volume of Business
Handled By Pickaway
Co-op During May.

The Pickaway Cream Cooperative association directors met in
the Farm Bureau office Saturday evening, June 22. The report of the month of May showed that 34,967 pounds of butter fat was handled and that 9,994 dozens of eggs were collected, representing a business volume of $19,120.49.
The association represents over 700 patrons who are developing their own market through the collection, testing and settlement of butterfat through the producers' own organization.

The total station and collection
cost for the month of May was $4.08 cents per pound of butterfat.

Patrons of the Association participate in the savings in addition to providing for themselves a stable and economic marketing service.

The patronage dividend for the last six months which is being distributed to the patrons now represents over $3000.00.

Pickaway-co cream producers
have built one of the most successful marketing services of its kind in the United States. Those producers of cream who wish to improve returns on their product may well afford to investigate this cooperative service.

OPEN BIDS JULY 2

Canaries Unhurt When Lightning Wrecks Kitchen

Three canary birds in the kitchen of the William Andrews home, 315 E. Corwin-st., escaped unscath-ed when a bolt of "cold" lightning struck the corner of the room with the force of an exploding bomb during the electrical storm early Sunday morning.

The bolt struck the house with such force that a hole was torn through the wall, hurling weather boarding more than 50 feet away and stripping the plastering from the walls of the kitchen. One of the canaries was in a cage in the corner which was torn away. The cage receptacle was torn from the cage and broken but the bird was uninjured.

The lightning struck while the Andrews family were visiting relatives in Ironton. Because the birds were not killed and the house did not ignite from the bolt, it is believed that "cold" lightning was responsible for the damage.

During the storm, two cows were killed by lightning on one of the H. N. Crites farms and blowing fuses caused the fire bell to sound several false alarms.

U. S. LAUNCHES INTENSE DRIVE TO DRY NATION

Educational Campaign Will Be Used With Increased

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The
present drive to enforce prohibition is by long odds the most concentrated and serious the government has undertaken in the nearly ten years of Volsteadism.

Equipped with more money,
more enforcement agents, more guns, more swift patrol boats
than ever before, and supported by the Jones law imposing stiff penalties for prohibition violation
as for burglary, the great summer offensive is on from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

To these material enforcement aids there will be brought this week the appeal to reason and mass suggestion. With the active support of the dry and professional reform organizations, the administration is now going to try to "sell" prohibition to the country from a moral standpoint—to make the average citizen "prohibition conscious," or, rather, "law enforcement conscious."

Within a few weeks, many bil-boards through the country which have been advising the public to walk a mile for a certain cigarette or to get miles of smiles from certain automobile tires are going to blossom forth with advertisements appealing for law observance.
There are going to be $50,000 worth of these posters as a starter. Congress appropriated the money specifically for the poster campaign. It was referred to as a psychological experiment.
Next Friday, the government's propaganda for law observance (prohibition observance) is to be carried to the school teachers of the country in convention assembled. Thousands of public school teachers will attend the convention of the National Education Association in Atlanta. And by written and spoken word the government is going to appeal to them to inject into their classroom work the message that the Volstead law is as sacrosanct as
the laws against thievery and murder.

LOYALTY SUNDAY

Anna B. Sutter, chief of the division of education and statistics of the bureau of prohibition, will be sent to Atlanta by the government to conduct this experiment in prohibition propaganda. If it is deemed successful, it is probable that the government will find means of having prohibition officials attend other national conventions business and fraternal, just as a manufacturing organization might send one of its sales-executives to a convention of dealers.

Closely cooperating with the administration, the anti-saloon league has designated next Sunday June 30, as "loyalty Sunday," and has broadcast appeal to all churches to have their pastors and Sunday School teachers impress upon attendants that observance of prohibition is a patriotic duty
—to teach and preach the patriotic lesson of loyalty to and respect for law.

DEBENTURE IN TARIFF SOUGHT BY SEN. BORAH

Will Lead Fight To Incorporate Plan When New Measure Is Considered.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Senator William E. Borah, a staunch supporter of President Hoover in the last campaign, announced today he would lead a drive to incorporate the export debenture plan of farm relief in the new tariff bill.

The senate having twice adopted
the debenture as a "rider" on the new farm relief bill over President Hoover's opposition, the Borah announcement will solidify the ranks of the Democratic-insurgent coalition for another agriculture battle in connection with the tariff.
Members of the insurgent bloc already have declared their intention of fighting for adoption of the new Norris debenture plan as a part of the tariff bill. The Norris plan, differing slightly from the old one, would provide for the payment of all debentures on exported surplus crops to the new Federal Farm Board for use in paying the cost of operating stablization corporations.

BATTLE LINES DRAWN

The battle lines were drawn distinctly when Senator Reed Smoot (R) of Utah, veteran chairman of the senate finance committee, announced he would oppose all efforts to attach the debenture to the tariff bill. Smoot echoed Mr.
Hoover's plea—that the plan was a bounty, certain to wreck hardship on the American people, increase tax burdens and fall as a relief measure to farmers.

The senate finance committee,
meanwhile continued its public hearings on rate schedules with a subcommittee, handling agricultural products, the busiest. The committee will conclude its rate hearings by July 10, with another two weeks for hearings on the administrative features and the free list. After that, it probably will require from three to four weeks
for the committee to redraft the bill. At present indications, it may not be ready for the Senate
when that body reconvenes, August 19, after a two-months vacation.

Borah, in declaring he would again support the debenture, said he had not studied the Norris plan
and therefore would not commit himself to that particular provision. He said he would support the
means of giving agriculture its

BADLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Frank Harrington Is Hurt
When Car Overturns Following Collision.

Frank Harrington, 22, an employee of the Circleville Ice Co., is seriously injured at the home of his father, William Harrington, E. Franklin-st., from injuries received in an automobile collision at 9 a. m. Sunday.

Harrington is suffering from a broken collar bone, several fractured ribs, a punctured left lung
and a slight concussion of the brain.

The accident occurred, it is reported, when Harrington's Ford coupe sideswiped the rear end of a Studebaker sedan at the intersection of Washington and Franklin-st. The name of the Studebaker driver, said to be going to Chillicothe from Lancaster, was not learned.

The impact caused Harrington's
car to overturn several times, pinning him beneath the wreckage.
He was carried in the J. B. Voll restaurant where he was given first aid and was later removed to his father's home in the Rinehart apartment house. He was being attended by Dr. E. S. Shane. His wrecked car was taken to the garage of the Circleville Motors
Co. The Studebaker was only slightly damaged.

Crack Army Flyer Plans Long Trip

An aerial voyage of discovery, reminiscent of the early trips which opened the western hemisphere, will be undertaken soon by Lieutenant James H. Doolittle, above, ace of army flyers. His itinerary includes Cuba, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Bolivia, and Argentina, and is the approximate route of the projected airmail service which is to be opened to South America. Lieut. Doolittle is best known for his performance in making the outside loop.

Ex-Champion's Petition Alleges Two Payments Were

NEW YORK, June 24.—Charging extortion, Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, through his attorneys, today filed an answer to the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against him
by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty.

The answer and cross-complaint was filed in Fairfield-co.
Conn., where Mrs. Fogarty's action was instituted, and was made public in New York by Attorney
Homer Cummings of Stamford,
Conn., associated with Tunney's
attorneys of record, Chadbourne, Stanfield and Levy.

Alleged copies of releases of any claims against Tunney signed by Mrs. Fogarty were attached to the document filed. One release dated July 24, 1928, read, "in consideration of the sum of $35,000." Another was dated May 25, 1927,
and cited "in consideration of the sum of one dollar." Counsel declined to comment on whether
further money had been paid in connection with this latter document.

The answer states in part that
the plaintiff—"knowingly has abused and is abusing the processes of this court and has used
and continues to use and employ
the same for the unlawful purposes, more particularly set forth
as follows:

"A. To vex and trouble the defendant unlawfully;

"B. To extort money from the defendant;

"C. To gain for the publication of libelous charges against
the defendant immunity from the penalties, civil and criminal, of the law of libel by relying upon
the privilege incident to pending litigation;

"D. To secure large sums of money from newspapers and from notoriously distributing agencies willing to pay for her statements, photographs and services."

Cummings called attention to the fact that the answer contained exhibits of the plaintiff's signature purporting to show that she had signed releases freeing Tunney from all obligations on two occasions. The releases were dated May 25 1927 and July 24, 1928.

The latter of these two releases was signed Cummings said shortly before the Tunney-Henney fight which marked the heavyweight's retirement from the ring.
"Two days before the date set for the boxing contest," between Tunney and Henney, while Tunney was in strict training in preparation therefor," the complaint says, "the money demands of the plaintiff and her threat of publicity became more insistent and menacing."

Counsel admitted that a valuable consideration had been paid
Mrs. Fogarty on May 25 1927 and that a further sum of money was paid her immediately before the Tunney-Henney fight rather than risk the effect of adverse publicity on the gate receipts.

"Advisers of Tunney decided that rather than risk the effect of adverse publicity which would impair and reduce the financial receipts of said contest, and occasion loss to said corporation and to said Tunney and disturb said Tunney in the course of his training a further sum of money should be paid to the said plaintiff," the cross complaint stated.

ASHVILLE HAS LARGEST CLUB

Are Enrolled In 4-H Summer Work.

There are 64 boys enrolled in 4-H Club work in Pickaway-co., while the girls show 195 in number, a total of 259.

H. S. Lewis, county agent, reports that the boys are showing much interest in their work for the season.

The club girls are progressing with their work. They are enjoying the projects this year as well as looking forward to the other activities in the club program, according to Miss Catherine Behymer, Home Demonstration Agent.

The largest enrollment of any club is in the Ashville Sewing club with 35 members. The Logan Elm Food club has the largest enrollment of any Food club in the county. Their enrollment shows 22 members.

The enrollment date has closed
and there are many boys and girls regretting it because they are not in club work this year.

TRACTOR BOUGHT BY PICKAWAY-TWP

A Caterpillar tractor and a Baker road maintainer have been purchased by the Pickaway-twp. trustees from The Taylor Tractor Co.
of Columbus, it was announced Monday. The entire equipment cost $3285.

The equipment was purchased
after a demonstration of the low cost per mile in the operation of the tractor and road maintainer.
The Pickaway-twp. trustees are
Harvey Alexander, Sam McKenzie and Clarence Rice. Charles P.
Mowery is clerk of the board. The sale was made by D. B. Grom, of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Rose of S.
Court-st. were visitors in Wash-

MOTORING AND FLYING CLAIM LIVES SUNDAY

Fourteen Fatalities Are Credited To Highway Accidents In Ohio.

By International News Service)

Deaths rode the air and highways and hovered over Ohio today yesterday, leaving in its wake today at least 19 persons dead, four of them killed in two airplane crashes.

Auto accidents claimed 14 lives,
and one drowning was recorded.
Two Sunday airplane accidents
caused the deaths of four persons, three of whom rode to their deaths in one craft.

Joe Hite, a parachute jumper, of Louisville, Ky., Homer Nason, of Indianapolis, the pilot, and Harry Bidd, of Harrison, a passenger, were killed near Lancaster airport, when their plane nose-dived into a cornfield from the height of 300 feet.

William Lowry, 24, Parma, O., was killed near Cleveland when his body was torn loose from the parachute as it opened. He dropped 1000 feet to the earth. His body was badly mangled.

Three persons were killed and two others were probably fatally injured at Mt. Liberty, near Mt.
Vernon, when two automobiles collided on a narrow culvert bridge yesterday.

Peter Busenbarg, Knox-co. farmer, his son, Robert, 7, and Willard McElroy, 50, another Knox-co. farmer, were almost instantly killed. Another son, 28, Busenbarg, Ivan, 10, and an aunt,
Mrs. Albert Ingalls, Cleveland, were probably fatally hurt.

A desire to save their lives in an automobile which was stuck on a railroad crossing at Columbus caused the deaths of two Columbus residents and probably fatal injuries to a third member of the party. A train struck them as they were attempting to push the auto from the tracks. Other injurious and the crossing watchman witnessed the tragedy. The dead are Mrs. Minnie Traphagen, 76, and her daughter, Mrs. H. M.
Dressel, 61. Mrs. Traphagen, the aged woman's husband, is not expected to live. He is in a Delaware hospital.

George W. Jussell, 80, and Ella
Witherby, 57, both of Akron, were killed when the machine in which they were riding was struck by another car as it turned into the main highway at Peck's corners, Lake-co.

Two persons, a woman and a small boy, were killed in individual accidents on the streets of Cleveland. Mrs. Katherine May Donald, was run down by a big ship motorist. Albert Grom, 4, was killed by a car while playing in the streets in front of his home.

Another Cleveland resident,
Abraham Spivack, 50, was killed when the car in which he was riding skidded and struck another auto at Wickliffe, near Cleveland.

Jessie Coons, 50, was fatally injured at Cincinnati when he was struck by an automobile driven by
a negro, who attempted to escape,
but who was captured and lodged in jail. The negro is William J.
Barber, 22.

Archie Lyle, 30, was struck and killed by an automobile in Columbus.

John Marko, 35, Cleveland, was drowned in Lake Erie during a squal yesterday.

Jesse Coons, 50, was run down and killed by a truck in Cincinti.

Carl Teanywitt, 45, was killed when his motorcycle skidded into a ditch near Manchester.

OWNERSHIP OF GUN RESULTS IN FIGHT

Disputed ownership of a revolver is said to have resulted in a fight Sunday morning between Albert Hill and John Crowley, brothers-in-law and partners in a restaurant at the Sears and Nichols Co.

As a result, Hill was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Carl Porter on a charge of assault which was preferred against him by Crowley Monday morning. Hill pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice George Strawser and was fined $10 and costs.

Is Protested.

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, O., June 24.—Dr.
James H. Snook, confessed slayer
of Miss Theora K. Hix, attractive 24-year-old Ohio State university
co-ed, today pleaded "not guilty"
when arraigned in criminal court.
Judge Robert Duncan for July 22.
The "not guilty" plea by Snook
was made in spite of the fact that he had signed, after an eighteen
hour police grilling, a formal confession that he hammered and knifed the girl to death on the night of June 13 "because she had threatened to kill his wife and baby."

VOICE CLEAR, FIRM
The ex-college professor was
handcuffed to another prisoner, also accused of murder, when he
was arraigned.
"What is your plea—guilty or
not guilty?" asked Judge Duncan, addressing Snook.
"Not guilty," replied Snook in
a clear, firm voice.

Prosecuting Attorney John J.
Chester then announced that an agreement had been reached with
the judges of the court of common pleas to set the defendants
trial for July 22.

Objection was immediately made by E. O. Ricketts, of council for
fense council sufficient time to prepare their case.
"I believe you will have ample
time," replied the judge, overrul-
ing the objection.

SEEKS VENUE CHANGE
Council for Snook later announced that before the date of the trial he will file a motion for a change of venue on the ground
that it would be impossible
trial in Franklin-co because of the condition of public sentiment.
The courtroom was crowded to
capacity for the Snook arrangement and a large crowd milled in
the corridors outside.

Snook and 16 other prisoners
were brought by deputy sheriffs
to an ante-room adjoining the
courtroom shortly after 9 o'clock.
Snook was handcuffed to another
slayer, Albert C. Gunning of Columbus, who is charged with shooting his wife to death while they were automobile riding.

Snook sat down when Prosecutor Chester announced that an agreement had been reached with

Azores—Light Is Seen

LONDON, June 24.—A wireless
message received in Madrid from
an unknown source states that a steamer named Magallanes has
found an abandoned hydroplane,
believed to be that of Major Ramon Franco, about 100 miles from the Azores, according to an exchange of telegraph message from Madrid today.

The dispatch adds that there is
no official confirmation of the report, although efforts are being made to verify its source.

been sent out from Ferrol to search for Major Franco, who
with three companions is missing
on an attempted flight across the

NEW YORK, June 24.—A red
flare sighted in mid-ocean halfway between the Azores and New York by an American freighter
may solve the mystery surrounding
trans-Atlantic fliers, Major Ramon Franco and his three companions,
it was believed today.

The flare was sighted by the S.

Greenwich Meridian time, (12:40
a. m. New York daylight time), Sunday, when the ship was approximately 1,400 miles due east of New York and 540 miles southeast of Cape Race, N. F., according to a radio message received
by the Radio Marine corporation here.

According to the Buffalo Bridge's
message the ship's position was 40.04 north latitude and 50.57 west longitude when the flare was sighted.

The message did not state
to investigate the source of the
The Buffalo Bridge owned and
operated by the Charles Nelson
Co. of San Francisco, Cal.

The sighting of the flare gave
rise to the theory that the fliers,
who were due at the Azores two
continue past those islands in the
mainland in one hop.

After many reports that they
had landed on an outlying island
of the Azores failed to find confirmation, the belief that the fliers
had continued beyond the Azores
found credence in Spain.

It was believed possible that
having consumed less gas than

they expected to on the first part
of their flight, the fliers daringly
decided to chance the risk of continuing to America on what fuel
remained.

According to this theory, the fliers
managed to push on to a point
before finding they had bitten off
more than they could chew and
hence sent up the flares sighted

BUTTER, EGG REPORT MADE

Large Volume of Business
Co-op During May.

The Pickaway Cream Coopera-
the Farm Bureau office Saturday
evening, June 22. The report of
handled and that 9,894 dozens of
eggs were collected, representing a business volume of $19,120.49.
The Association represents over 700 patrons who are developing
their own market through the collection, testing and settlement of butterfat through the producers' own organization.

The total station and collection
cost for the month of May was $4.08 cents per pound of butter-
fat.

Patrons of the Association participate in the savings in addition to providing for themselves a stable and economic marketing service.

The patronage dividend for the last six months which is being distributed to the patrons now represents over $3000.00.

Pickaway-co cream producers
have built one of the most successful marketing services of its kind in the United States. Those producers of cream who wish to improve returns on their product may
well afford to investigate this cooperative service.

Bids for the construction of the new hospital will be received July 2, according to the chairman of the board, Harry G. Stevenson.

The contract for the sewerage system will also be let on that date.

Canaries Unhurt When Lightning Wrecks Kitchen

Three canary birds in the kitchen of the William Andrews home, 315 E. Corwin-st., escaped unscathed when a bolt of "cold" lightning struck the corner of the room with
the force of an exploding bomb
during the electrical storm early Sunday morning.

such force that a hole was torn
through the wall, hurling weather
boarding more than 50 feet away
and stripping the plastering from
the walls of the kitchen. One of
the canaries was in a cage in the
cage and broken but the bird was
uninjured.

The lightning struck while the
Andrews family were visiting relatives in front. Because the birds were not killed and the house did
not ignite from the bolt, it is be-
responsible for the damage.

were killed by lightning on one of
the H. N. Crites farms and blowing fuses caused the fire bell to

U.S. LAUNCHES INTENSE DRIVE TO DRY NATION

Educational Campaign Will Be Used With Increased

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The
present drive to enforce prohibition is by long odds the most concentrated and serious the government has undertaken in the nearly ten years of Volsteadism.

Equipped with more money,
more enforcement agents, more
than ever before, and supported by the Jones law imposing stiff
penalties for prohibition violation
as for burglary, the great summer
offensive is on from the Atlantic
to the Pacific.

To these material enforcement
aids there will be brought this
mass suggestion. With the active
support of the dry and professional reform organizations, the administration is now going to try
to "sell" prohibition to the country from a moral standpoint—to
make the average citizen "prohibition conscious," or, rather, "law enforcement conscious."

POSTER CAMPAIGN

Within a few weeks, many billboards through the country which
have been advising the public to
walk a mile for a certain cigarette or to get miles of smiles from certain automobile tires are going
to blossom forth with advertisements appealing for law observance.
There are going to be $50,000 worth of these posters as
a starter. Congress appropriated
the money specifically for the poster campaign. It was referred to as a psychological experiment.

Next Friday, the government's
propaganda for law observance (prohibition observance) is to be carried to the school teachers of
the country in convention assembled. Thousands of public school teachers will attend the con-
al Association in Atlanta. And by written and spoken word the government is going to appeal to
them to inject into their class room work the message that the
the laws against thievery and
murder.

Anna B. Sutter, chief of the division of education and statistics
of the bureau of prohibition, will be sent to Atlanta by the government to conduct this experiment in prohibition propaganda. If it is deemed successful, it is probable that the government will find
means of having prohibition officials attend other national conventions, business and fraternal, just
as a manufacturing organization
might send one of its sales-executives to a convention of dealers.

Closely cooperating with the administration, the anti-saloon league
has designated next Sunday, June 30, as "loyalty Sunday," and
has broadcast appeal to all churches to have their pastors and Sunday School teachers impress
upon attendants that observance
of prohibition is a patriotic duty
—"to teach and preach the patriotic lesson of loyalty to and respect for law."

Will Lead Fight To Incorpor-
ure Is Considered.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Senator William E. Borah, a staunch supporter of President Hoover in
the last campaign, announced today he would lead a drive to incorporate the export debenture
plan of farm relief in the new
tariff bill.

the debenture as a "rider" on the
new farm relief bill over President Hoover's opposition, the Borah announcement will solidify the ranks of the Democratic-insurgent coalition for another agriculture battle in connection with the tariff.
Members of the insurgent bloc already have declared their inten-
new Norris debenture plan as a part of the tariff bill. The Norris plan, differing slightly from
the old one, would provide for the payment of all debentures on exported surplus crops to the new Federal Farm Board for use in
paying the cost of operating stabl-
ization corporations.

tinctly when Senator Reed Smoot (R) of Utah, veteran chairman of the senate finance committee, announced he would oppose all efforts to attach the debenture to
the tariff bill. Smoot echoed Mr.
Hoover's plea - that the plan was
a bounty, certain to wreck hard-
ship on the American people, increase tax burdens and fall as a relief measure to farmers.

The senate finance committee,
meanwhile continued its public
hearings on rate schedules with a
subcommittee, handling agricultural products, the busiest. The committee will conclude its rate
hearings by July 10, with another
two weeks for hearings on the administrative features and the free
list. After that, it probably will require from three to four weeks
for the committee to redraft the
bill. At present indications, it may not be ready for the Senate
when that body reconvenes, August 19, after a two-months vacation.

Borah, in declaring he would again support the debenture, said he had not studied the Norris plan
and therefore would not commit
himself to that particular provision. He said he would support the
means of giving agriculture its
fair share of protective tariff.

When Car Overturns Following Collision.

Frank Harrington, 22, an employee of the Circleville Ice Co., is seriously injured at the home of his father, William Harrington,
E. Franklin-st., from injuries received in an automobile collision
at 9 a. m. Sunday.

Harrington is suffering from a
tured ribs, a punctured left lung
and a slight concussion of the brain.

The accident occurred, it is re-
coupe sideswiped the rear end of a Studebaker sedan at the intersection of Washington and Franklin-st. The name of the Studebaker driver, said to be going to Chillicothe from Lancaster, was
not learned.

The impact caused Harrington's
car to overturn several times, pinning him beneath the wreckage.
He was carried in the J. B. Voll restaurant where he was given
first aid and was later removed to
his father's home in the Rinehart neighborhood. He was being attended by Dr. E. S. Shane. His wrecked car was taken to the garage of the Circleville Motors
Co. The Studebaker was only slightly damaged.

BANK IS PAINTED

The First National bank at

Crack Army Flyer Plans Long Trip

An aerial voyage of discovery, reminiscent of the early trips
which opened the western hemisphere, will be undertaken soon by Lieutenant James H. Doolittle, ace of army flyers. His itinerary includes Cuba, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Bolivia, and Argentina, and is the approximate route of the projected airmail service which is to be opened to South America. Lieut. Doolittle is best known for his performance in making the outside loop.

leges Two Payments Were

NEW YORK, June 24.—Charging extortion, Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, through his attorneys, today filed an answer to the $500,000 breach of
promise suit brought against him
by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty.

The answer and cross-complaint was filed in Fairfield-co.
Conn., where Mrs. Fogarty's action was instituted, and was made public in New York by Attorney
Homer Cummings of Stamford,
Conn., associated with Tunney's
attorneys of record, Chadbourne, Stansfield and Levy.

Alleged copies of releases of any
claims against Tunney signed by
Mrs. Fogarty were attached to the document filed. One release dated July 24, 1928, read, "in consideration of the sum of $35,000." Another was dated May 25, 1927,
and cited "in consideration of the sum of one dollar." Counsel declined to comment on whether
further money had been paid in
ment.

The answer states in part that
the plaintiff—"knowingly has
abused and is abusing the processes of this court and has used
and continues to use and employ
the same for the unlawful purposes, more particularly set forth
as follows:

"A. To vex and trouble the defendant unlawfully;

"B. To extort money from the defendant;

"C. To gain, for the publication of libelous charges against
the defendant, immunity from the
penalties, civil and criminal, of
the law of libel by relying upon
the privilege incident to pending
litigation;

"D. To secure large sums of money from newspapers and from notoriety distributing agencies
willing to pay for her statements,
photographs and services."

Cummings called attention to
the fact that the answer contained exhibits of the plaintiff's signature purporting to show that
she had signed releases freeing Tunney from all obligations on two occasions. The releases were dated, May 25, 1927 and July 24, 1928.

The latter of these two releases
was signed, Cummings said, shortly before the Tunney-Heene fight, which marked the heavyweight's retirement from the ring.
"Two days before the date set for the boxing contest between Tunney and Heene, while Tunney was in strict training in preparation therefor," the complaint
says, "the money demands of the plaintiff and her threats of publicity became more insistent and
menacing."

Counsel admitted that "a valuable consideration" had been paid
Mrs. Fogarty on May 25, 1927, and

that a further sum of money was
paid her immediately before the Tunney-Heene fight, rather than
risk the effect of adverse publicity on the gate receipts.

"Advisers of Tunney decided
that rather than risk the effect of
adverse publicity which would im-
pair and reduce the financial receipts of said contest and occasion loss to said corporation and to said Tunney and disturb said Tunney in the course of his training a further sum of money should be paid to the said plaintiff," the
cross complaint stated.

Are Enrolled In 4-H Summer Work.

There are 64 boys enrolled in 4-H Club work in Pickaway-co,
while the girls show 195 in number, a total of 259.

H. S. Lewis, county agent, reports that the boys are showing
much interest in their work for the season.

The club girls are progressing
with their work. They are enjoying the projects this year as well
as looking forward to the other
activities in the club program, according to Miss Catherine Behy-
mer, Home Demonstration Agent.

The largest enrollment of any
club is in the Ashville Sewing
club with 35 members. The Logan Elm Food club has the largest enrollment of any Food
club in the county. Their enrollment shows 22 members.

The enrollment date has closed
and there are many boys and
girls regretting it because they
are not in club work this year.

A Caterpillar tractor and a Baker road maintainer have been pur-
ees from The Taylor Tractor Co.,
of Columbus, it was announced Monday. The entire equipment
cost $3285.

The equipment was purchased
after a demonstration of the low
cost per mile in the operation of
the tractor and road maintainer.
The Pickaway-twp trustees are
Harvey Alexander, Sam McKenzie and Clarence Rice. Charles P.
Mowery is clerk of the board. The sale was made by D. B. Groce, of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rose of S.
Court-st. were visitors in Wash-

Fourteen Fatalities Are Cred-
dents In Ohio.

By International News Service)
Deaths rode the air and highways and hovered over Ohio lakes yesterday, leaving in its wake today at least 19 persons dead, four
of them killed in two airplane crashes.

Auto accidents claimed 14 lives,
and one drowning was recorded.
Two Sunday airplane accidents,
caused the deaths of four persons,
three of whom rode to their death
in one craft.

Louisville, Ky., Homer Nasers, of Indianapolis, the pilot, and Harold Biddo, of Harrison, a passenger, were killed near Lancet airport, at Harrison, near Cincinnati, when their plane nose-dived into a corn-
William Lowry, 24, Parma, O.,
was killed near Cleveland when his
body was torn loose from the parachute as it opened. He dropped 1000 feet to the earth. His body was badly mangled.

Three persons were killed and
two others were probably fatally injured at Mt. Liberty, near Mt.
Vernon, when two automobiles collided on a narrow culvert bridge
yesterday. Peter Busenbarg, Knox-co farmer, his son, Robert, 7,
and Willard McElroy, 50, another Knox-co farmer, were almost instantly killed. Another son of Busenbarg, Ivan, 10, and an aunt,
Mrs. Albert Ingalls, Cleveland,
were probably fatally hurt.

A desire to save their new automobile when it became stalled on a railroad crossing at Cardington caused the deaths of two Columbus residents and probably fatal
injuries to a third member of the
party. A train struck them as they were attempting to push the auto from the tracks. Other motorists and the crossing watchman
are Mrs. Minnie Traphagan, 74,
and her daughter, Mrs. H. M.
Dressel, H. M. Traphagan, the aged woman's husband, is not expected to live. He is in a Delaware hospital.

George W. Jussell, 60, and Ella
Witherstay, 57, both of Akron, were killed when the machine in
which they were riding was struck
by another car as it turned into the main highway at Pech's corners, Lake-co.

Two persons, a woman and a small boy, were killed in individual accidents on the streets of Cleveland. Mrs. Katherine Mac-Donald, was run down by a bit-skip motorist. Albert Grze, 4, was killed by a car while playing on the streets in front of his home.

Another Cleveland resident,
Abraham Spivick, 50, was killed when the car in which he was riding skidded and struck another auto at Wickliffe, near Cleveland.

Jessie Coons, 50, was fatally injured at Cincinnati when he was struck by an automobile driven by
a negro, who attempted to escape,
but who was captured and lodged
in jail. The negro is William J.
Barber, 22.

Archie Lyle, 30, was struck and killed by an automobile in Columbus.

John Marko, 35, Cleveland, was drowned in Lake Erie, during a
squal yesterday.

Jesse Coons, 50, was run down
and killed by a truck in Cincin-
ti.

Carl Tennywitt, 45, was killed when his motorcycle skidded into a ditch near Manchester.

OWNERSHIP OF GUN RESULTS IN FIGHT

Disputed ownership of a revolver is said to have resulted in a fight Sunday morning between Albert Hill and John Crosley, brothers-in-law and partners in a restaurant at the Sears and Nichols Co.

As a result, Hill was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Carl Porter on a charge of assault which was preferred against him by Crosley.
Monday morning Hill pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice George Strawser and was fined $10 and costs.

YANKEES FAIL TO CUT LEAD OF ATHLETICS

Huggins Crew Will Try Again In Three Game Series At Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Apparently stymied in their effort to win their fourth straight pennant, the once all-conquering Yankees were marking time today pending the opening of their three-game series starting in Philadelphia on Thursday when they will make one more try to cut into the lead of the triumphant Athletics. They will need to make a clean sweep of this series to get back into the running, for the series concluded here yesterday when the A's won the fifth and deciding game saw the Mackmen increase their lead from 7 1-2 to 8 1-2 games.

Stealing the champions' thunder, Simmons, Foxx and Haas put on a home run barrage that netted a 7 to 4 victory. Buster Gehrig's 20th homer, offered in rebuttal, was not enough.

And while Ehmke and Earnshaw were outpitching Wells and Zachary of the Yanks, Myles Thomas, released by Huggins to Washington on waivers, held the Red Sox to four hits and beat them 7 to 1, a performance that would have turned the tide for the Yanks yesterday.

PIRATES BEAT CUBS
While 50,000 disgruntled fans saw Yanks lose, 48,000 equally morose Chicago fans saw the Pirates lambast the Cubs, 8 to 7, for the third time in as many days. A single by Little Poison Waner in the eighth broke up the party. The Bucs now lead the second-place Cubs by 2 1-2 games.

Hankus Pankus Deberry, Dazzy Vance's private catcher, turned in the most amazing performance of his career as Brooklyn nosed out the Giants, 9 to 8, shattering the six-game winning streak of the McGrawmen. The veteran's sixth single of the game turned the tide in the fourteenth inning after the Giants had held their own although outbatted by 21 hits to 10.

REDS DOWN CARDS
The Cardinals also came a cropper when they were beaten by Red Lucas of Cincinnati, 4 to 2. Had relieved Frankhouse on the mound for St. Louis in the eighth just in time to be nicked for the winning runs.

The other St. Louis team, the Browns, are now faring better than their intercity rivals. They tied the Yanks for second place in the American league scramble by coming from behind to beat the White Sox, 6 to 5. Sam Gray turning in his 11th win of the season.

Cleveland knocked George Uhle out of the box in the seventh but Detroit back with a tally in the eighth to gain an 8 to 7 decision. The Braves two-timed the Phillies, 5 to 1 and 7 to 5, to tie Brooklyn for fifth place. In the nightcap the Hub players scored all their runs in a stirring sixth-inning rally.

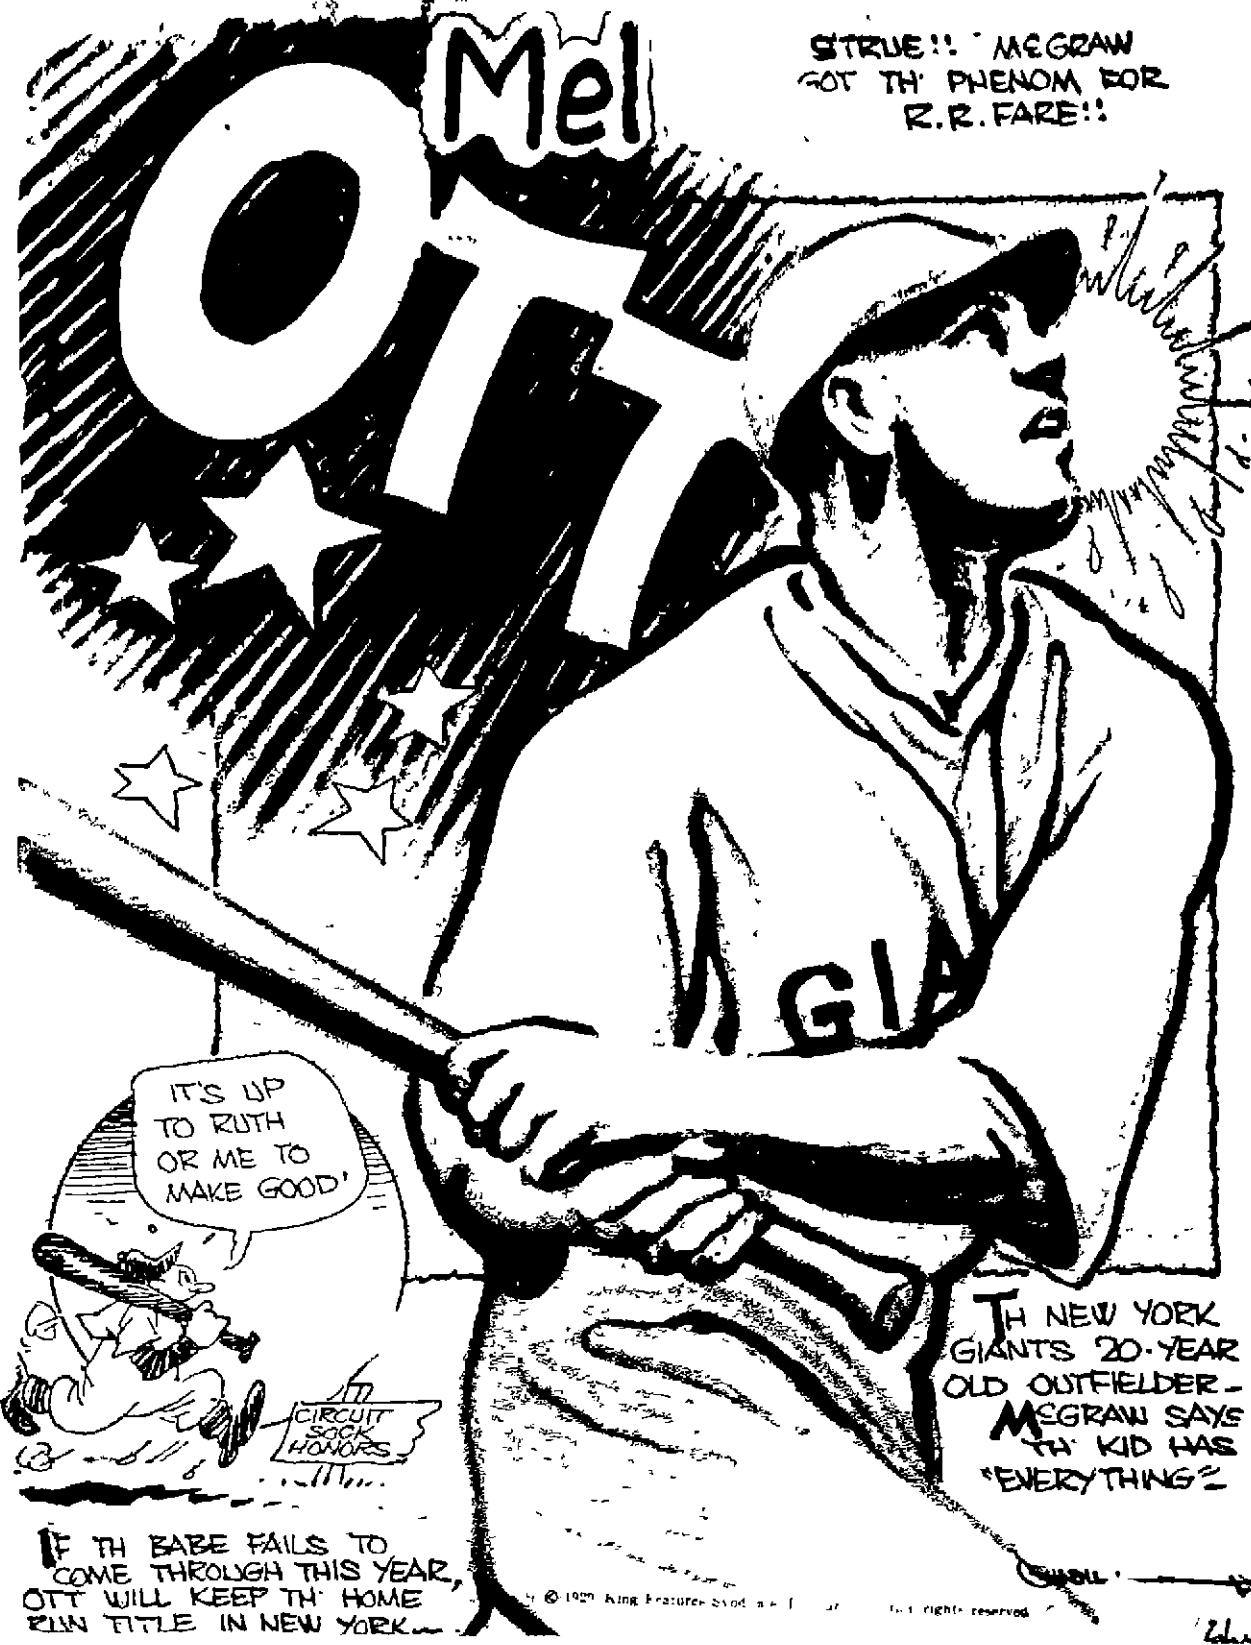

SNOOK DENIES GUILT

trial. The defendant listened attentively as his council raised objection to the early trial date. He seemed unconcerned, however, when the judge remained adamant. JUDGE UNANNOUNCED Judge Duncan ordered that seventy-five names be drawn for possible jury service in connection with the Snook trial and instructed that they be on hand on July 22.

In replying to declaration by Attorney Ricketts indicating belief that sufficient time had not been granted the defense to prepare the case, Judge Duncan said: "I believe that the defendant has been accorded every opportunity and privilege to which he is entitled."

Judge Duncan explained that he would be unable to try the case because his present term as presiding judge in the criminal division of the common pleas court here expires on July 1. He said that while the name of the judge who will hear the case has not yet been determined, the selection will be made soon.

Taking It Literally

They had departed to a warmer climate for the winter months and the master was watching his servants unpack the various boxes while he checked their contents with an eye.

"You are sure we've got every thing we want?" he asked, when the operation was almost complete.

"Yes, sir," answered the valet.

"What about the medicine chest?"

Is everything in it? Bandages, safety pins, lint, brandy, iodine—

"There's no iodine, sir," interrupted the valet hastily.

"Why not, indeed?"

"Because you'd written on the bottle that it was not to be taken sir," replied the other mockly.

Huggins Crew Will Try Again In Three Game Series At Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Apparently stymied in their effort to win their fourth straight pennant, the once all-conquering Yankees were marking time today pending the opening of their three-game series starting in Philadelphia on Thursday when they will make one more try to cut into the lead of the triumphant Athletics. They will need to make a clean sweep of this series to get back into the running, for the series concluded here yesterday when the A's won the fifth and deciding game saw the Mackmen increase their lead from 7 1-2 to 8 1-2 games.

Stealing the champions' thunder, Simmons, Foxx and Haas put on a home run barrage that netted a 7 to 4 victory. Buster Gehrig's 20th homer, offered in rebuttal, was not enough.

And while Ehme and Earnshaw were outpitching Wells and Zachary of the Yanks, Myles Thomas, released by Huggins to Washington on waivers, held the Red Sox to four hits and beat them 7 to 1, a performance that would have turned the tide for the Yanks yesterday.

PIRATES BEAT CUBS

While 50,000 disgruntled fans saw Yanks lose, 48,000 equally morose Chicago fans saw the Pirates lambast the Cubs, 8 to 7, for the third time in as many days. A single by Little Poison Wanner in the eighth broke up the party. The Cubs now lead the second-place Cubs by 2 1-2 games.

Hankus Pankus Deberry, Dazzy Vance's private catcher, turned in the most amazing performance of his career as Brooklyn nosed out the Giants, 9 to 8, shattering the six-game winning streak of the McGrawmen. The veteran's sixth single of the game turned the tide in the fourteenth inning after the Giants had held their own although outbatted by 21 hits to 10.

REDS DOWN CARDS

The Cardinals also came a cropper when they were beaten by Red Lucas of Cincinnati, 4 to 2. Haid relieved Frankhouse on the mound for St. Louis in the eighth just in time to be nicked for the winning runs.

The other St. Louis team, the Browns, are now faring better than their intercity rivals. They tied the Yanks for second place in the American league scramble by coming from behind to beat the White Sox, 6 to 5. Sam Gray turning in his 11th win of the season.

Cleveland knocked George Uhls out of the box in the seventh but Detroit back with a tally in the eighth to gain an 8 to 7 decision.

The Braves two-timed the Phillies, 5 to 1 and 7 to 5, to tie Brooklyn for fifth place. In the nightcap the Hub players scored all their runs in a stirring sixth-inning rally.

SNOOK DENIES GUILT

(Continued from Page One) trial. The defendant listened attentively as his council raised objection to the early trial date. He seemed unconcerned, however, when the judge remained adamant. TRIAL JUDGE UNANNOUNCED Judge Duncan ordered that seventy five names be drawn for possible jury service in connection with the Snook trial and instructed that they be on hand on July 22.

In replying to declaration by Attorney Ricketts indicating belief that sufficient time had not been granted the defense to prepare the case, Judge Duncan said: "I believe that the defendant has been accorded every opportunity and privilege to which he is entitled."

Judge Duncan explained that he would be unable to try the case because his present term as presiding judge in the criminal division of the common pleas court here expires on July 1. He said that while the name of the judge who will hear the case has not yet been determined, the selection will be made soon.

Japan's Gift Unique

There are 12 Japanese cherry trees within the White House grounds that were sent from the imperial gardens in Japan, and are said to be the only trees of their kind ever presented from these gardens.

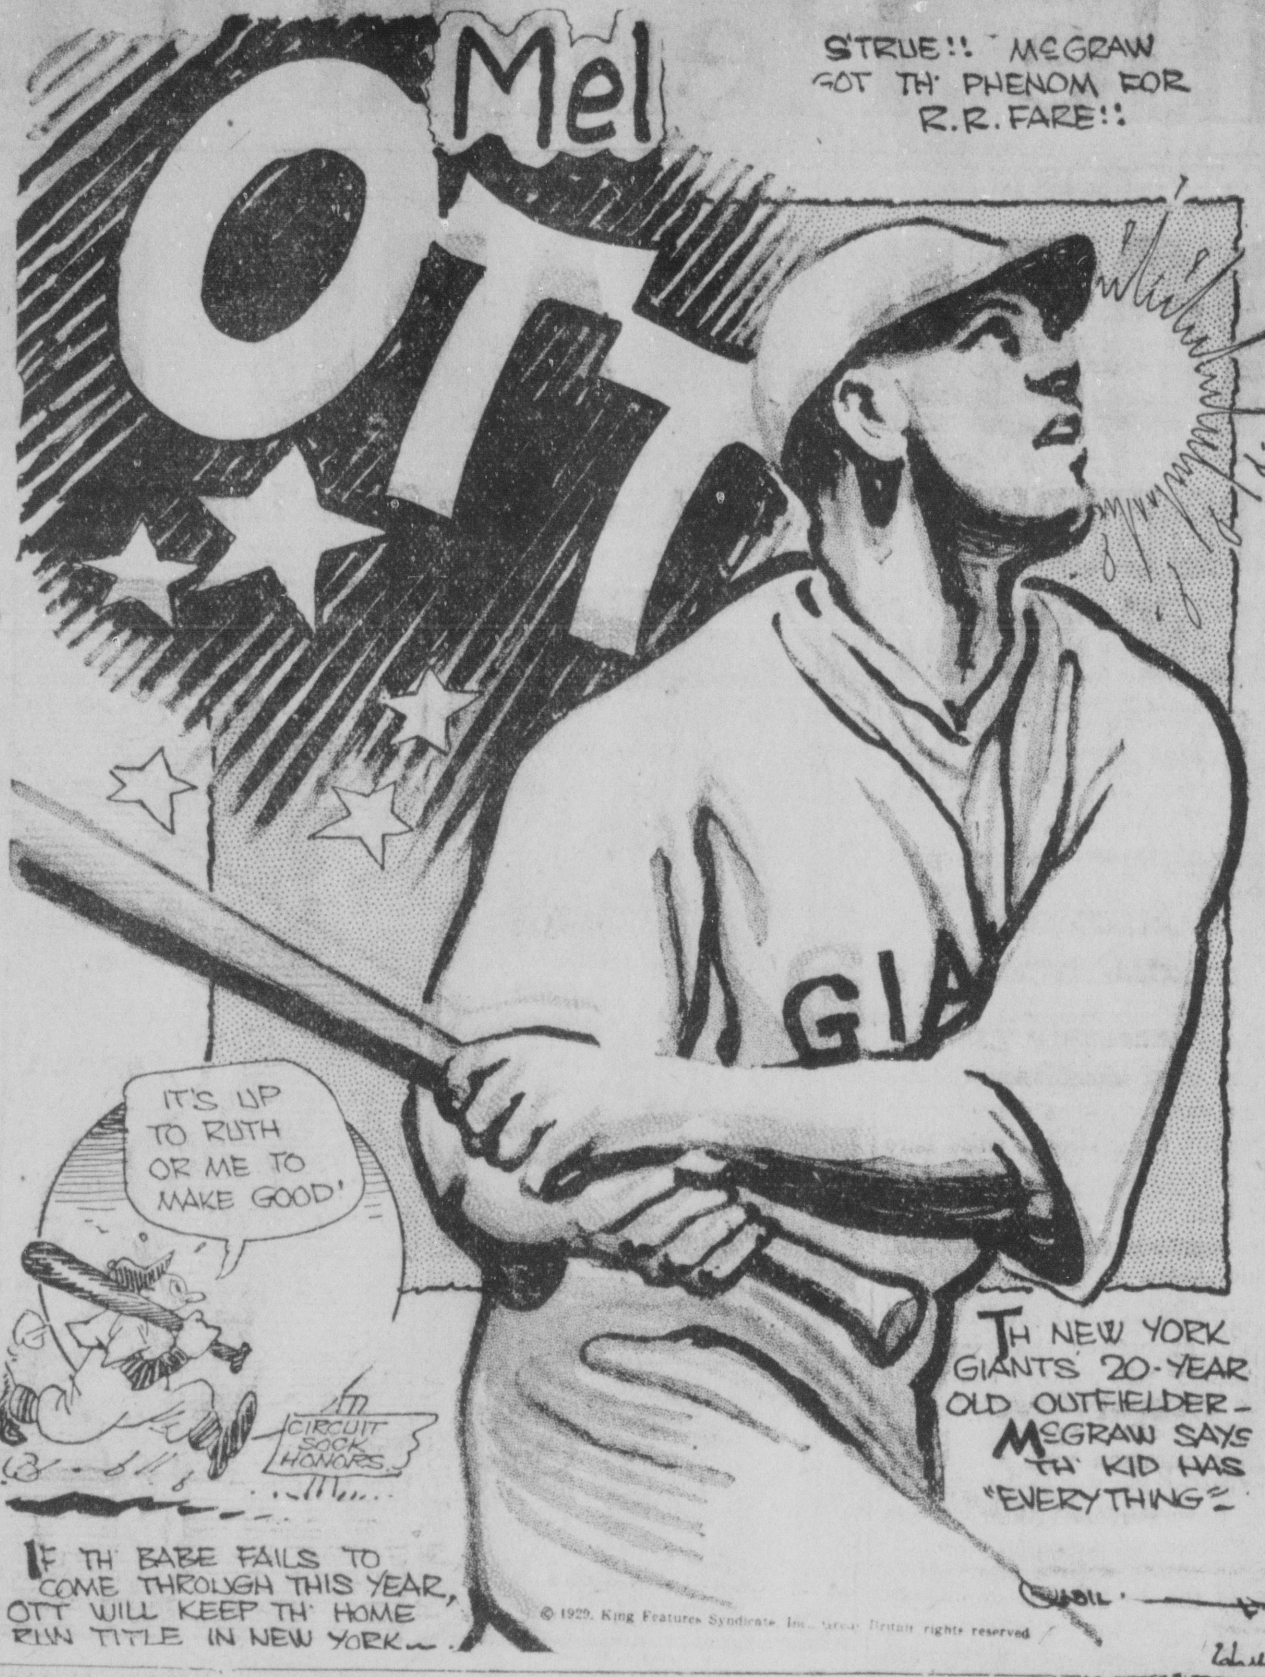

Tetrazzini Incident

What Tetrazzini said was the most amusing incident in her career as a dancer occurred in her younger days when she and her sister were touring and sharing rather humble homes. After thanking a landlady who had been more considerate and kind than most, that good lady astonished the Tetrazzini sisters by looking up from her washbasin and saying, with benign condescension:

"That's all right, my dears, I'm always good to my tenants, for I never know what my own children may come to."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

C. A. C. HIGH SCORER IN LOCAL LEAGUE

The C. A. C. nine holds the honors of scoring the most runs and holding its opponents to the minimum number of tallies in the Recreation league to date. The C. A. C. has collected 43 hits, good for 23 runs, in three games while holding their opponents to 10 runs. The Coca Colas are a close second with 26 runs scored in four games to their opponents' 15.

Tonight the Lutheran Brotherhood plays the Circleville Merchants at Mason's Park and the Coca Colas clash with the Pettit Tires at Ohio Utilities park.

VILLAGE SWEEP BY DISASTROUS BLAZE

JACKSON, O., June 24.—A fire which razed three buildings in the heart of the business district of Oak Hill, a village near here, early today caused damage estimated at $50,000.

The fire gained considerable headway before it was discovered. Fire fighters were sent from here to help combat the flames which started in a battery shop, spread to an adjoining restaurant and then to a theater.

CITY SWELTERING

Circleville sweltered Monday noon with a temperature of 91 degrees. At the end of the day, the trite saying, "Is it hot enough for you?" was considered grounds for arrest. Sunday also was sultry and hot, even after the electrical storm Saturday night. Cloudy and cooler weather has been promised for Monday night and Tuesday.

IF THE SWING IS RIGHT ONE NEED NOT WORRY ABOUT HOW THE BALL IS HIT

RIVAL COLORED SOCIETIES WAR

Three Are Near Death After 600 Negroes Battle For Possession of Hall.

NEW YORK, June 24—Three of 600 West Indian negroes who staged a riot in Harlem last night with sabers and empty rifles, were near death this morning, many others were nursing minor injuries and 15 were under arrest. Police reserves, armed with rifles and a sub-machine gun, broke up the battle after a free-for-all fight in which occupants of neighboring buildings participated by throwing bottles and other missiles from the windows.

The riot started when 50 members of the Universal Negro Improvement association, strutting in their blue uniforms with glistening gold braid and brandishing unloaded rifles, attempted to force an entrance into Liberty hall. The Garvey club, a rival negro organization, was holding a meeting in the hall and its 500 members were similarly armed.

The 100 members of the Universal association, which recently broke away from the Garvey club, its parent organization, wanted to take the hall and were overwhelming the smaller band, belaboring them with rifle butts and sabers, when the police riot squad with gas bombs and machine guns broke up the party.

Women participated in the battle, swinging their fists and pulling the kinky hair of the "enemy troops." The battlefield occupied an entire block.

Invershin Leads Second Ascot

A Good Deed Falls

It happened on a train down on the cape. The train stopped. A woman hurried out of the door and down the steps. Mr. M— across the aisle, noticed she had forgotten a bag and three bundles! He hastily grabbed them, tore down the steps, put them in the conductor's arms, and explained matters.

The train started. Mr. M— heard strong language in a foreign tongue. The lady "across the aisle" had returned. She finally made the conductor understand that she ran across the platform to speak to a friend!

Mr. M— has sworn off on "boy scout" acts!—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Ancient Library

The explorer, Layard, discovered in the ruins of the palace of Nineveh the library of the Nineite kings, consisting of a large number of tablets of clay, impressed before burning with inscriptions in cuneiform characters. They had originally been paged and preserved in cases.

No Woman Without Some Appeal to Masculinity

Almost every woman has something about her which, carefully nurtured, will make her seem desirable—not, of course, to every man in her world, but to one or two. The charm, which may be anything from piquant conversation to good cooking, will find appreciation somewhere if it be well displayed.

Men are appealed to through their vanity and vainglory even more easily than women which means that most men would rather be seen about with a woman who patently did credit to their powers of fascination than with the worst creature in the world if she had no means of making the beholders envy them.

There may be men who dislike more flirtation and coldly ignore a woman who attracts them, but you will have to look for them in monasteries and other retired places. They are not of this world.

A man likes to look upon a woman as one who is subject to a hundred weaknesses and follies, and yet remains at heart a staunch friend and confidant.

A man falls in love with a woman who helps him to appear at his best.—"The Technique of the Love Affairs." By a Gentlewoman.

The Eternal Turmoil

Women do not make men better; they better them. That is nature; the law of God. Throughout the Bible one finds evidence of the natural action between men and women. "Wives, obey your husbands," says the Good Book. It is also declared that women must keep silence in the churches; the old saints early had trouble with their women.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

A Country Editor IN AND ABOUT THE STATE HOUSE

A Department of News Service And Cooperation for Herald Readers

To Herald readers: The writer is a Country Editor whose duties at the State House afford him opportunity to write of happenings and conditions in and about the Capitol which should prove of especial interest to The Circle's Herald readers.

A feature of this department, through special arrangement between The Herald and the Department of Agriculture, is that readers may feel free to address inquiries and suggestions touching on matters connected with any governmental activities in the Capitol to The Herald's Care Department of Agriculture, Columbus, Ohio.

Editor, The Herald:—

Someone has styled the Ohio Department of Agriculture as "Everybody's Department." As a matter of fact the department, through its various divisions, does deal with the welfare of every man, woman and child in the state. It enforces the pure food and drug laws; inspects meat, weights and measures, sanitary conditions of bottling and canning factories, dairies; conserves wild animals and game; sponsors the State fair; fights diseases of plants and domestic animals, distributes market data. In short its good offices embrace promotion of health and welfare particularly of farm folk and their domestic animals, and of suburban people through a number of avenues of service. The six divisions of the department are: Animal Industry, Feeds and Fertilizers, Fish and Game, Foods and Dairies, Bureau of Markets, Plant Industry and State Fair.

NEW HATCHERY

Ohio's new $13,500 fish hatchery at Bucyrus, has recently been stocked with hundreds of adult rock bass and cat fish which are now spawning in the shallow pools and thousands of tiny fish will soon be wriggling in the various pools awaiting the time when they will be big enough for distribution to various creeks and lakes, says Chief J. W. Thompson. The hatchery was erected last summer and dedicated early in November.

REFUGEE LEASES

There are only nine Ohio counties which do not have state game refuge areas. They are Adams, Clinton, Highland, Holmes, Lake Mahoning, Noble, Ottawa and Wayne. The Fish and Game Division has recently completed an investigation as to the status of some of the refuge leases. Tracts on which leases have expired or were void, have been eliminated and new leases recorded. The total acreage in the state now stands at 122,627.69. The records are now accurate and ready for the new conservation setup, which will go into action July 15, with a wider program of activities than have fallen to the division heretofore.

FAIR EXCURSION RATES

At a meeting of the Central Railroad Passenger Association held in Chicago June 7, additional selling dates were granted to accommodate the All-Ohio High School Band boys who desire to rehearse prior to the State Fair. A rate of one and a half fare for the round trip, to be sold between August 22-31 inclusive, with final return limit not later than midnight of Sept. 2, 1929, is the schedule fixed. Several of the individual railroads will have excursions at very much lower rates. Bus lines have declined to grant reduced rates, but will run shuttle busses between their local stations and the State Fair grounds, without charge, to passengers from out of town.

JUNIOR FAIRS GROW

The "junior fair movement" was accelerated when junior fair associations were granted honorary membership in the Ohio Fair Managers Association in mid-summer conference at the Neil House. All regularly organized societies were made eligible. An organization of the junior fair societies of the state as the Ohio Junior Fair Managers Association is planned according to Donald Osborn, president of the Ashley Junior Fair. C. E. Ashbrook, Manager of the Ohio State Junior Fair says: "We are now assured of well filled exhibits in all departments of the junior fair. Departments are 4-H Club Work, Vocational Agricultural, 'Future Farmers', Juvenile Grange, City School Gardens, Vocational Trades and Industries Manual Training, Vocational Home Economics." Eight boys and girls will constitute a Board of Assistant Managers and will assist in directing the fair. The premium list of the Ohio State Junior Fair issued in separate form will be ready for distribution early in July. Premium ribbons will be Ohio State Junior Fair instead of Ohio State Fair.

INSPECTION OF POTATOES

"There has been more interest shown this year in Ohio in Shipping Point Inspection of potatoes than any previous year," says C. W. Ward, chief of the Bureau of Markets of the Department of Agriculture. "The Ohio potato growers are gradually getting to the point where they realize that in order to compete with potatoes shipped into Ohio markets from other states they will be obliged to grade and sack their potatoes so that they will compare favorably with shipped in stock." We do not wish to give the impression that all shipped in potatoes are well graded or of good quality and appearance, but the importing states are making greater efforts every season to try and put out an attractive article. They realize that an unsatisfactory article does not get them the desired trade and, therefore, know that they must put out something good or be forced out of the running," is Mr. Ward's opinion. "Ohio growers who wish to continue to hold their trade against outside competition will find the Shipping Point Inspection Service, which is provided by the Ohio Bureau of Markets, one of the most practical helps in this endeavor."

Trade Board Big Factor in Chicago's Progress

The job of 30,000 men and women are directly dependent on the existence of the Chicago Board of Trade; 100,000 are employed indirectly because of the "world's largest" commodity exchange. These figures indicate the important part the board has taken in building Chicago into the big city of the world and the financial and marketing center of the Middle West.

Early in 1838 a small group of influential leaders, engaged in pulling Chicago out of the mud that was, old Fort Dearborn, organized the board of trade. Memberships in those days could be bought for a comparatively few dollars. Today, the total value of membership at a conservative estimate, is $30,000,000.

In the old days, tolling wagon loads of wheat and corn arrived from across the prairies in Chicago and were promptly sold at the exchange. Long before the end of the board's eighty-first year, Chicago was the railroad center of the world and farm products moved to market in modern style. It is estimated that one-seventh of all the revenue of midwestern railroads now is derived from the transport of farm crops to market. A great part of their shipments go to Chicago for sale on the exchange.

GLOWING HEALTH BROUGHT QUICKLY BY NEW KONJOLA

Modern Medicine Triumphed Where Other Remedies and Treatments Failed.

MRS. LENA CLAPPER.

"How wonderful it is to be well again, and I owe it all to Konjola," said Mrs. Lena Clapper, 468 South Seventh street, Columbus. "I suffered for four years from a badly disordered stomach. Everything I ate caused gas, bloating and piercing pains. There was a heavy feeling in my stomach. Pains in my side and shoulders were almost unbearable and my heart palpitated and I was short of breath. I was growing weaker, and felt discouraged."

"But the results from a short treatment with Konjola amazed me. By the time I had finished the third bottle my health was restored. Now I eat whatever I care to without suffering afterward. My food now does me good. I am gaining in strength. I sleep soundly and wake up in the morning rested and refreshed. I am so happy now that I praise it every day I get."

Konjola is sold at C. W. Ward's store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

RIVAL COLORED SOCIETIES WAR

NEW YORK, June 24—Three of 600 West Indian negroes who staged a riot in Harlem last night with sabers and empty rifles, were near death this morning, many others were nursing minor injuries and 15 were under arrest. Police reserves, armed with rifles and a sub-machine gun, broke up the battle after a free-for-all fight in which occupants of neighboring buildings participated by throwing bottles and other missiles from the windows.

The riot started when 50 members of the Universal Negro Improvement association, strutting in their blue uniforms with glistening gold braid and brandishing unloaded rifles, attempted to force an entrance into Liberty hall. The Garvey club, a rival negro organization, was holding a meeting in the hall and his 500 members were similarly armed.

The 100 members of the Universal association, which recently broke away from the Garvey club, its parent organization, wanted to take the hall and were overwhelming the smaller band, belaboring them with rifle butts and sabers, when the police riot squad with gas bombs and machine guns broke up the party.

Women participated in the battle, swinging their fists and pulling the kinky hair of the "enemy troops." The battlefield occupied an entire block.

Invershin Leads Second Ascot

A Good Deed Fails

It happened on a train down on the cape.

The train stopped. A woman hurried out of the door and down the steps. Mr. M— across the aisle, noticed she had forgotten a bag and three bundles! He hastily grabbed them, tore down the steps, put them in the conductor's arms, and explained matters.

The train started. Mr. M— heard strong language in a foreign tongue. The lady "across the aisle" had returned. She finally made the conductor understand that she ran across the platform to speak to a friend!

Mr. M— has sworn off on "boy scout" acts!—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Ancient Library

The explorer, Layard, discovered in the ruins of the palace of Nineveh the library of the Nineveh kings, consisting of a large number of tablets of clay, impressed before burning with inscriptions in cuneiform characters. They had originally been paged and preserved in cases.

No Woman Without Some Appeal to Masculinity

Almost every woman has something about her which, carefully nurtured, will make her seem desirable—not, of course to every man in her world, but to one or two. The charm, which may be anything from plump conversation to good cooking, will find appreciation somewhere if it be well displayed.

Men are appealed to through their vanity and vainglory even more easily than women, which means that most men would rather be seen about with a woman who potentially did credit to their powers of fascination than with the worst creature in the world if she had no means of making the beholders envy them.

There may be men who dislike mere flirtation, and coldly ignore a woman who attracts them, but you will have to look for them in monasteries and other retired places. They are not of this world.

A man likes to look upon a woman as one who is subject to a hundred weaknesses and follies, and yet remains at heart a stanch friend, a really good sort. A man falls in love with a woman who helps him to appear at his best.—"The Technique of the Love Affairs." By a Gentlewoman.

The Egg-and-Tomato

Women do not make men better; they bother them. That is nature; the law of God. Throughout the Bible one finds evidence of the natural friction between men and women. "Wives, obey your husbands," says the Good Book. It is also declared that women must keep silence in the churches; the old saints early had trouble with their women.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

A Country Editor

IN AND ABOUT THE STATE HOUSE

A Department of News Service And Cooperation for Herald Readers

To Herald readers: The writer is a Country Editor whose duties at the State House afford him opportunity to write of happenings and conditions in and about the Capitol which should prove of especial interest to The Circleville Herald readers.

A feature of this department, through special arrangement between The Herald and the Department of Agriculture, is that readers may feel free to address inquiries and communications touching on matters connected with any governmental activities in the Capitol to The Herald, Care Department of Agriculture, Columbus, Ohio.

Editor, The Herald:— Someone has styled the Ohio Department of Agriculture as "Everybody's Department." As a matter of fact the department, through its various divisions, does deal with the welfare of every man, woman and child in the state. It enforces the pure food and drug laws; inspects meat, weights and measures, sanitary conditions of bottling and canning factories, dairies; conserves wild animals and game; sponsors the State fair; fights diseases of plants and domestic animals, distributes market data. In short its good offices embrace promotion of health and welfare particularly of farm folk and their domestic animals, and of suburban people through a number of avenues of service. The six divisions of the department are: Animal Industry, Feeds and Fertilizers, Fish and Game, Foods and Dairies, Bureau of Markets, Plant Industry and State Fair.

NEW HATCHERY

Ohio's new $13,500 fish hatchery at Bucyrus, has recently been stocked with hundreds of adult rock bass and cat fish which are now spawning in the shallow pools and thousands of tiny fish will soon be wriggling in the various pools awaiting the time when they will be big enough for distribution to various creeks and lakes, says Chief J. W. Thompson. The hatchery was erected last summer and dedicated early in November.

REFUGEE LEASES

There are only nine Ohio counties which do not have state game refuge areas. They are Adams, Clinton, Highland, Holmes, Lake Mahoning, Noble, Ottawa and Wayne. The Fish and Game Division has recently completed an investigation as to the status of some of the refuge leases. Tracts on which leases have expired or were void, have been eliminated and new leases recorded. The total acreage in the state now stands at 122,627.69. The records are now accurate and ready for the new conservation setup, which will go into action July 15, with a wider program of activities than have fallen to the division heretofore.

FAIR EXCURSION RATES

At a meeting of the Central Railroad Passenger Association held in Chicago June 7, additional selling dates were granted to accommodate the All-Ohio High School Band boys who desire to rehearse prior to the State Fair. A rate of one and a half fare for the round trip, to be sold between August 22-31 inclusive, with final return limit not later than midnight of Sept. 2, 1929, is the schedule fixed. Several of the individual railroads will have excursions at very much lower rates. Bus lines have declined to grant reduced rates, but will run shuttle busses between their local stations and the State Fair grounds, without charge, to passengers from out of town.

JUNIOR FAIRS GROW

The "junior fair movement" was accelerated when junior fair associations were granted honorary membership in the Ohio Fair Managers Association in mid-summer conference at the Neil House. All regularly organized societies were made eligible. An organization of the junior fair societies of the state as the Ohio Junior Fair Managers Association is planned according to Donald Osborn, president of the Ashley Junior Fair. C. E. Ashbrook, Manager of the Ohio State Junior Fair says: "We are now assured of well filled exhibits in all departments of the junior fair. Departments are 4-H Club Work, Vocational Agricultural, 'Future Farmers', Juvenile Granges, City School Gardens, Vocational Trades and Industries, Manual Training, Vocational Home Economics." Eight boys and girls will constitute a Board of Assistant Managers and will assist in directing the fair. The premium list of the Ohio State Junior Fair, issued in separate form will be ready for distribution early in July. Premium ribbons will be Ohio State Junior Fair instead of Ohio State Fair.

"There has been more interest shown this year in Ohio in Shipping Point Inspection of potatoes than any previous year" says C. W. Waid, chief of the Bureau of Markets of the Department of Agriculture. "The Ohio potato growers are gradually getting to the point where they realize that in order to compete with potatoes shipped into Ohio markets from other states they will be obliged to grade and sack their potatoes so that they will compare favorably with shipped in stock." We do not wish to give the impression that all shipped in potatoes are well graded or of good quality and appearance, but the importing states are making greater efforts every season to try and put out an attractive article. They realize that an unsatisfactory article does not get them the desired trade and, therefore, know that they must put out something good or be forced out of the running," is Mr. Waid's opinion. "Ohio growers who wish to continue to hold their trade against outside competition will find the Shipping Point Inspection Service, which is provided by the Ohio Bureau of Markets, one of the most practical helps in this endeavor."

The job of 30,000 men and women are directly dependent on the existence of the Chicago Board of Trade; 100,000 are employed indirectly because of the "world's largest" commodity exchange. These figures indicate the important part the board has taken in building Chicago into the fifth city of the world and the financial and marketing center of the Middle West.

Early in 1848 a small group of influential leaders, engaged in pulling Chicago out of the mud that was, old Fort Dearborn, organized the board of trade. Memberships in those days could be bought for a comparatively few dollars. Today the total value of membership at a conservative estimate, is $50,000,000.

In the old days, tolling wagon loads of wheat and corn arrived from across the prairies in Chicago and were promptly sold at the exchange. Long before the end of the board's eighty-first year, Chicago was the railroad center of the world and farm products moved to market in modern style. It is estimated that one-seventh of all the revenue of midwestern railroads now is derived from the transport of farm crops to market. A great part of their shipments go to Chicago for sale on the exchange.

The War department says that the medical department of the United States army in the World War included about 280,000 men, of whom about 20,000 were doctors who volunteered their services and were commissioned.

Curious Reflection

"Have you seen the Museum ghost?" asked my friend, an Egyptologist, when with him in the Egyptian gallery of the British Museum. We had just passed the empty black basalt coffin of a priest of Ptah, but on looking through the glass case that contained a statue of Isis, he pointed out that the previously empty coffin now held a mysterious figure! My companion's explanation of this somewhat disturbing apparition was that the reflection of an officer in a coffin on the other side of Isis' case was caught by one glass of the case and thrown by the other right into the vacant coffin of Ptah's priest! The illusion is certainly remarkable. The illusion is certainly remarkable. The illusion is certainly remarkable. London Mail.

When You're Blue and Life Seems Not Worth While, You're Probably Paying the Penalty of Indiscretion in Eating, Says Dr. Copeland.

United States Senator from New York.

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

"BLUE MONDAY" is famous for its depressing effects. A few people appear to have the blues on Monday and every other day of the week. They are constantly in the dumps.

To them life seems not worth while. Everything and everybody seems to be working against you. An early death or an asylum of some sort is thought to be the only thing left. Life is a failure!

If you ever had the blues you know the symptoms. The funniest joke will not bring a smile—the contrary it seems, stupid to you. You do not enjoy contact with family or friends. All you ask is to be let alone, to die as soon as possible.

Isn't this a dreadful picture? Yet how many times you have gone through just such an experience.

When the cause of these spells commonly called the "blues," is established they will not seem so serious. Nine times out of ten an upset digestive system is the root of the evil.

Indigestion, constipation and the resulting clogging of the system, are the real reasons for your knowing you are going to die. The intestinal fermentation produces gases and toxins which poison the system.

We must not expect to disregard the laws of nature and still enjoy good health. You cannot have an unclean intestinal tract and perfect and efficient functioning of mind and body. They simply do not mix.

Overeating—eating too much of certain foods such as pies, pastries, rich gravies or meats, a combination of rich foods, will upset the digestive system. You cannot eat three regular meals each day and then eat between meals and before going to bed, without paying the penalty.

A headache, perhaps nausea, the blues and many other symptoms will surely follow such abuse of the body organs. The machinery of digestion and elimination can break down just as machines of wood and metal will rebel if overworked.

Waste no time in correcting the trouble. Take a cathartic like castor oil, follow this with citrate of magnesia or milk of magnesia. Then reduce your diet to simple liquid or soft food for twenty-four hours. You will be surprised how soon all your troubles will disappear.

The blues will fade away and everything will be rosy. With this warning from Nature, correct your habits, less eat and with more judgment. Take a short brisk walk each day. Exercise your muscles. Occupy your mind with pleasant thoughts—seek pleasant companions and read books. You will be surprised how such a manner of living will affect your disposition as well as your health.

Answers to Health Queries

H. G. Q.—How can I reduce? Are reducing tablets or preparations harmful in any way?

A.—If you restrict your diet with regard to sweets and starches and take some regular exercise daily you should lose weight and benefit generally. I am not familiar with such preparations, therefore cannot advise you about their use.

A Reader. Q.—I am reducing and do a great deal of walking, but as I am inclined to have varicose veins and walking aggravates this trouble I am at a loss to know what to do about it. I am dieting and in addition taking after meals.

A.—Do not overdo the walking—keep your diet well balanced, limiting the amount of sweets and starches and keep the intestinal tract clear. Wearing a rubber stocking, or bandage on the legs during the day.

Sea's Flower Garden

Although the waters of the sea seem devoid of plant life to the casual observer, there are on the very surface countless billions of microscopic particles and plants that serve to form a marine pasture for the denizens of the deep says the Boston Evening Transcript. Beneath the surface of the tropical seas one can find a veritable fairyland in which the flowers are usually biological specimens that gladden the hearts of the scientists, and the erratics are actually living creatures and not merely boulders transported from their original beds by submarine volcanic or other action.

Found It an Apt Simile

A country girl, whose imagery was necessarily limited, once in the presence of Gilbert K. Chesterton compared the sea, which she saw for the first time, to a cauliflower. At first this seemed ridiculous to the essayist, who is a past master of simile, having once compared his own portly self to a mountain. But after thinking it over, Mr. Chesterton changed his mind about the girl's paucity of imagination. He felt that the image was highly appropriate, suggesting as it did "the wave breaking as well as curling and the efflorescence of the branching foam."—Living Age.

Black Ants Fostered

on Cocoa Plantations

"Without Black Ants No Cocoa," reads a sign posted at the entrance of a great plantation in central Java. It does not go unheeded, for the natives hand in some 4,000,000 nests of these little creatures every year, and receive payment in return. These black ants live only upon trees infested by the white cocoa loess. Neither the loess nor the ants injure the trees. The real enemy is a certain beetle whose name is Helopeltis, which also attacks the tea plant. It has been found that when the black ants are present the Helopeltis fails to injure the trees. Apparently this sap-sucking pest is disturbed by the activity of the ants, for the latter do not attack the beetle. This is why the black ants are protected. Food is provided for them by picking the white cocoa lye from the shells of the fruit, where they congregate, and placing them on the cocoa trees to attract the ants and disturb the beetles.

There are too many people on this earth administering their medicines to the strong and healthy.—American Magazine.

BIBLE THOUGHT

THE NEW CENSUS

"All those in favor of this motion stand up and be counted." When the chairman of a public assembly says the above words following some hot debate, it is a thrilling moment. So there is soon to be a thrilling period, when we all stand up to be counted in the census of the American people. We all vote for the motion that our country is the greatest in the world.

The conferees of the senate and house have agreed upon the census law, the machinery for making this great count, said to be the most complete in our history, should start doing business November 1. The public hopes that the utmost care will be taken in selecting enumerators, so that the work everywhere shall be faithfully and accurately done.

THE MUSIC CLUBS

One thousand delegates of the National Federation of Music Clubs have just met in convention in Boston. One of the features of the occasion was a service in honor of Lowell Mason, famous American musician of former days, whose tunes are usually found in the hymn books used in the churches.

The American people are natural music lovers, and they are profoundly influenced by music. They have fought great battles under the inspiration of stirring marches, their melancholy thoughts are driven away by bright dance music, their hearts are lifted to new heights by the power of classical themes.

Wherever the music lovers have formed a club represented in this federation, they have made life sweeter. No town is too busy or too large or too small to have a good music club, to encourage its people to develop this form of talent.

IT ISN'T OVER YET

Government prohibition forces seem to have put a stop to the liquor smuggling business at Detroit, which is a good thing. The situation there was an international scandal. Seymour Lowman has estimated that 85 per cent of all the liquor imported into this country came over the Detroit river.

It will be just as well, however, to reserve the cheers for a little while until we get a chance to see how the thing works out. By concentrating its forces at Detroit, the government is apt to leave some other holes unplugged. After all, there are more than 2,000 miles of border line between this country and Canada; and the rum smugglers led on by the enormous profits that attend that line of endeavor, can be trusted to try to find a new port of entry.

"NOAH" HAS ARK SET FOR FLOOD

Hermit of Pacific Coast Is Ready for Deluge He Believes Is Due.

Olympia, Wash.—The "Ark of the Pacific Coast," built to carry followers of the Lord to higher lands when He floods the Pacific coast, rides on Puget sound under the shadows of the dome of the state Capitol.

The "ark," built by a hermit named William Greenfield, is one of the strangest ships ever constructed. Youth, middle-aged and aged are following in the path of sin, says Greenfield, who has termed himself captain of the queer craft, and who has built the "ark" in answer to God's revelations, to carry him and non-sinners across the ocean to higher lands when He invokes the penalty on sinners.

Captain Greenfield is aided in his work by one known to him as Michael. The "Twentieth century Noah" says that God named Michael to assist him in preparing the vessel.

Neither Knows Date.

The vessel floats peacefully on the harbor awaiting the call, which Michael says will come in two years and which Greenfield says will come in one year, apparently neither knowing just when the deluge is to inundate the Pacific coast.

Greenfield has made it plain that he will not carry any animals with him when he takes the journey. He plans on making only a short voyage with the ship.

The hull of the craft was constructed by Greenfield at an Olympia mill in 1922, and floated to its present location, where at low tide it rests in a specially constructed cradle to keep it clear of mud.

The boat is anchored near the end of one of the arms of Puget sound, approximately a mile from the dome of the new Capitol. One inspired by man and the other by God, so says the "prophet."

A 100-horse-power motor is located in the hull. Installation of the motor has not been completed. The craft carries no propeller.

Piano for Hymns.

The first deck of the "sin savior" is fitted up for living quarters where the modern Noah spends much of his time, probably pondering over the present state of the world. The stateroom in which he meditates is furnished with odds and ends. A small piano, in need of tuning, fills one corner. It is to be used by Greenfield after the "ark" has landed on dry land, for singing hymns of praise.

The room is lined with sheet metal and painted white. Toward the stern another room is located, to be used as a guest room for visitors. A narrow walk is provided along the rail of the stern where a ladder leads upward to the top of the deck. This deck is roofed over to keep the rains, that are slated to fall during the tidal wave, back. Greenfield is of slight build, medium height and about sixty years of age. He is of English descent, but was born in Illinois.

Greeks Follow Italy in Tax on Bachelors

The Greek census of last May showed practically for the first time, a considerable excess of women—the figures are 52,214. This phenomenon is largely due to the fact that the Greek refugees from Asia Minor numbered more women than men.

The tax will be applied only after the age of thirty, and is removed after the bachelor reaches fifty years. War invalids and officers up to a certain rank will be exempt. The criticism is made that "in these difficult days" men marry later than has heretofore been customary, and the critics say that the taxable age should be set at thirty-five years rather than thirty.

Well-Dressed Irishmen Adopt Novel Pajamas

Belfast.—The well-dressed young Irishman will sleep in very novel pajamas this year, according to orders received by Ulster shirt, collar and pajama manufacturers. Extra workers are being employed to meet the demand for fancy nightwear, and some firms report a 60 per cent increase in output. The day of the fancy shirt has gone, manufacturers say, as the jazzy patterns have given way to plain materials or neat stripes.

Nice If She Would Only Lay 'Em in Pan

Elmdale, Kan.—Much has been written about the "helpful" Kansas hen, and the boon she has been to mankind. But "Old Rusty," a hen owned by Mrs. Heron Straub, adds real service to her egg laying.

Always when it is time for the hen to lay she insists on coming right into the house to lay her eggs. She will leave the other chickens in the poultry house and come to the door of the house, where she will cackle and fuss around and is so persistent that she is admitted. Mrs. Straub has a nest in one corner of the room, where "Old Rusty" settles down contentedly and lays an egg.

TAFFY

CHAPTER XL.
Daphne were out on the steps. "Mrs. Colby isn't thinking of a single thing but herself," she cried bitterly. "I think it's a shame!"

"That's life," he answered coldly, and the glimpse that she had of his face, hard and cynical in the failing light, chilled her.

It wasn't so bad for old Mr. Greely to be cynical. Mr. Greely was old and sick. But Allan Winters! Young and with wonderful friends, like Ralph. . . . "Thanks for helping," she said quickly. "I'm going to leave you here. I can take the Van Ness car."

Oh, no—I'll call a taxi. Wait—here's the one that brought us back. "Taxi!"

She wanted to insist on the street car, but she was too tired. She didn't have the energy to argue. She let him put her into the cab, and leaned back in her corner, her eyes closed, the long dark lashes shadowing her cheeks. A tear rolled down her face, and another and another. The physical comfort of the cushioned cab after the long, hard day was suddenly too much for her.

She broke down and cried. Cried for sheer weariness. For old Mr. Greely, and his helplessness, and the sawdust-stuffed Sister Anne who would worry him and boss him and make him miserable. For Ralph McKevitt who was so mysteriously involved with Greely, with Crystal, with mysterious affairs that kept him from her. For this Allan Winters who was taking her home, and whose eyes were as old and tired as Mr. Greely's. Cried for everything and nothing, and couldn't stop once she had started.

"Where did you say, sir?" the taxi man asked again. Allan, from his corner, took another look at the weeping girl. It was obviously no time to ask her her address, which he had forgotten. He felt in his pockets. A ten dollar bill and some change. "Keep driving—anywhere—it doesn't matter," he said.

They were along the ocean shore somewhere when the gas gave out. The taxi man couldn't believe his hard luck. Never in all his ten years of taxiing had such a thing happened to him. He scratched his head, and gazed desperately at the empty tank. "How in . . . how did that happen? I started out at 6:15 with a fare for Fifth and Mission and come back and picked up this elderly party and—"

"Oh, go get some gas, and quit talking about it!" Allan growled. After he had gone there was nothing to do but wait. Daphne huddled in her corner, dabbing at her eyes. Allan slumped in his seat. They didn't speak. There was half the width of the seat between them. He felt ridiculous and cheated.

It was a relief when the man came back with some gas in a grocery quarter of a mile away. "I can get more gas at the service station down here a ways," he said, "and then where do we go?"

"Home!" Daphne cried quickly. Useful Shellfish Abalone is the name of a shellfish. The shell is used for buttons, beads and other ornaments. The meat is dried for food. The word is generally used to describe things made from the shell, as abalone buttons.

Norman Cathedrals

There are several old cathedrals in Normandy, including those of Rouen, Lisieux, Bayeux, Coutances, Evreux and Sees, but none of them is particularly famous for its chimes, though there are in Normandy many old bell-towers. Planquette's well-known opera, "The Chimes of Normandy," made the village of Corneville famous, though the story and legend of the bells appear to be entirely fictitious.

Old-Time Playing Cards

Some authorities believe that the very earliest wood block prints of Europe, perhaps earlier than the Buxheim St. Christopher, were playing cards. The earliest of these which we know are also French, two valets or knaves which are thought to have been made in Provence not later than 1440.—Boston Transcript.

THE RULE IS!
By GEORGE SARGENT
Gold Professional
The Situation: In match play A, whose ball lies nearest the hole, puts out of turn. Is there any penalty attached?
The Rule Is: Should such a play be made, the player's ball shall be replaced immediately. Disqualification for both competitors shall result in the case of a breach of this rule.
Another Name for It: She is the kind of woman, we said in our bitterly intolerant way, that thinks a photograph is much better if she calls it a studio portrait.—Ohio State Journal.
Really Great Matter: Words are good, but they are not the best. The best is not to be explained by words; the split in which we act is the great matter.—Goethe.

THEATERS
AUDIENCE THRILLED
No higher tribute could be paid to a film drama than that it entertains from the opening scene to the conclusion—and this is the case with "The Donovan Affair," the Columbia 100% dialogue production which opened at the Clifton Theater Sunday.
The screen version of the famous stage play of the same name by Owen Davis fairly scintillates with sparkling action and scintillating dialogue. The cast includes such prominent players as Jack Holt, Dorothy Revier, William Collier, Jr., Agnes Ayres, John Roche, Fred Kelsey and Virginia Brown Faire.
The screen story is logical and consistently worked out. The audience will follow the clues with keen interest, but not one in a thousand will guess the solution or the identity of the killer. The acting is admirable throughout. Jack Holt gives a clean-cut performance as Inspector Killian, the detective. Miss Revier is delightful in the role of the heroine. The clever dialogue and natural voice reproduction make "The Donovan Affair" the best all talking picture made so far.
JESSE JAMES IS IDEAL
Wallace Beery draws his bad men characterization from life. His favorite model is Jesse James. "I went to school in Kansas City with his son, Jesse James, Jr.," Beery said recently, during a brief interval in the "shooting" of "Stairs of Sand." Paramount pictures of the Zane Grey novel, which comes to the Met theater Tuesday and Wednesday.
"Jesse James was a very sympathetic villain. In many respects, he was a hero. His exploits were daring. Although an outlaw, he was very human."
Beery was born and raised in the region where the famous outlaw lived. He has absorbed much of the history and color associated with the James gang. And he used what he learned to advantage in menace roles in the films.
In "Stairs of Sand," Beery has the part of a sympathetic "bad man" Conklin and Phillips R. Holmes are featured with Beery in the production.

BIBLE THOUGHT
THE LAW OF GOD—Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.—Matthew 5:19.
PRAYER—Lord Jesus, we trust in Thee, be Thou our righteousness.

THE NEW CENSUS
"All those in favor of this motion stand up and be counted." When the chairman of a public assembly says the above words following some hot debate, it is a thrilling moment. So there is soon to be a thrilling period, when we all stand up to be counted in the census of the American people. We all vote for the motion that our country is the greatest in the world.
The conferees of the senate and house have agreed upon the census law, the machinery for taking this great count, said to be the most complete in our history, should start doing business November 1. The public hopes that the utmost care will be taken in selecting enumerators, so that the work everywhere shall be faithfully and accurately done.

THE MUSIC CLUBS
One thousand delegates of the National Federation of Music Clubs have just met in convention in Boston. One of the features of the occasion was a service in honor of Lowell Mason, famous American musician of former days, whose tunes are usually found in the hymn books used in the churches.
The American people are natural music lovers, and they are profoundly influenced by music. They have fought great battles under the inspiration of stirring marches, their melancholy thoughts are driven away by bright dance music, their hearts are lifted to new heights by the power of classical themes.
Wherever the music lovers have formed a club represented in this federation, they have made life sweeter. No town is too busy or too large or too small to have a good music club, to encourage its people to develop this form of talent.

Government prohibition forces seem to have put a stop to the liquor smuggling business at Detroit, which is a good thing. The situation there was an international scandal. Seymour Lowman has estimated that 85 per cent of all the liquor imported into this country came over the Detroit river.
It will be just as well, however, to reserve the cheers for a little while until we get a chance to see how the thing works out. By concentrating its forces at Detroit, the government is apt to leave some other holes unplugged. After all, there are more than 2,000 miles of border line between this country and Canada; and the rum smugglers led on by the enormous profits that attend that line of endeavor, can be trusted to try to find a new port of entry.

Largest Family
According to the Bible, Gideon had 70 sons. Judges 8:20-31 says: "And Gideon had three-score and ten sons of his lady-begetten; for he had many wives. And his concubine that was in Shechem, she also bore him a son, whose name he called Amitelech."—Partridge Magazine.

Neither Knows Date.
The vessel floats peacefully on the harbor awaiting the call, which Michael says will come in two years and which Greenfield says will come in one year, apparently neither knowing just when the deluge is to inundate the Pacific coast.
Greenfield has made it plain that he will not carry any animals with him when he takes the journey. He plans on making only a short voyage with the ship.
The hull of the craft was constructed by Greenfield at an Olympia mill in 1922 and floated to its present location, where at low tide it rests in a specially constructed cradle to keep it clear of mud.
The boat is anchored near the end of one of the arms of Puget sound, approximately a mile from the dome of the new Capitol. One inspired by man and the other by God, so says the "prophet."
A 100-horse-power motor is located in the hull. Installation of the motor has not been completed. The craft carries no propeller.

Piano for Hymns.
The first deck of the "sin saver" is fitted up for living quarters where the modern Noah spends much of his time, probably pondering over the present state of the world. The tiny room in which he meditates is jammed with odds and ends. A small piano, in need of tuning, fills one corner. It is to be used by Greenfield after the "ark" has landed on dry land, for singing hymns of praise.
The room is lined with sheet metal and padded white. Toward the stern another room is located to be used as a guest room for visitors. A narrow walk is provided along the rail of the stern where a ladder leads upward to the top of the deck. This deck is roofed over to keep the rains, that are slated to fall during the tidal wave, back.
Greenfield is of slight build, medium height and about fifty years of age. He is of English descent, but was born in Illinois.

Greeks Follow Italy in Tax on Bachelors
Athens.—The Greek government, following the example of Italy, is introducing a tax on bachelors.
The Greek census of last May showed practically for the first time—the figures are 522,214. This phenomenon is largely due to the fact that the Greek refugees from Asia Minor numbered more women than men.
The tax will be applied only after the age of thirty, and is removed after the bachelor reaches fifty-five years. War invalids and officers up to a certain rank will be exempt.
The criticism is made that "in these difficult days" men marry rather than live hereofore been customary, and the critics say that the favorable age should be set at thirty-five years rather than thirty.

Well-Dressed Irishmen Adopt Novel Pajamas
Belfast.—The well-dressed young Irishman will sleep in very novel pajamas this year, according to orders received by Ulster shirt, collar and pajama manufacturers. Extra workers are necessary to meet the demand for fancy nightwear, and some firms report a 60 per cent increase in output. The day of the fancy shirt has given manufacturers a new way to plan materials or neat stripes.

Nice If She Would Only Lay 'Em in Pan
Humble, Kan.—Auch has been written about the "chick" Kan-as hen, and the town she has been to market. But "Old Rusty," a hen owned by Mrs. Helen Strubbe, adds real service to her egg laying.
Always when it is time for the hen to lay she moves in coming right into the house to lay her eggs. She will leave the other chickens in the hen house and come to the door of the house where she will cackle and fuss around until she is coaxed out that she is a "laid" hen. Strubbe has a nest, a pan, and a corner of the floor where "Old Rusty" settles down contentedly and lays an egg.

Useful Shellfish
Abalone is the name of a shell fish. The shell is used for buttons, pens, and other articles. The meat is generally used in soups, stews, and other dishes. It is also used in the manufacture of shell buttons.

There's a Distinction

Norman Cathedrals
There are several cathedrals in Normandy, including those of Rouen, Lisieux, Bayeux, Caen, and others. They are all of the Norman style, and are famous for their architecture and art.

Not Always Derogatory
The word "old" is not always derogatory. It can mean "wise" or "experienced". It can mean "great" or "valuable". It can mean "old" or "ancient".

The Better Understanding

Daphne by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER XL.
THE door closed. Allan and Daphne were out on the steps. "Mrs. Colby isn't thinking of a single thing but herself," she cried bitterly. "I think it's a shame!"
"That's life," he answered coldly, and the glimpse that she had of his face, hard and cynical in the falling light, chilled her.
It wasn't so bad for old Mr. Greely to be cynical. Mr. Greely was old and sick. But Allan Winters! Young and with wonderful friends, like Ralph. "Thanks for helping," she said quickly. "I'm going to leave you here. I can take the Van Ness car."
"Oh, no—I'll call a taxi. Wait—here's the one that brought us back."
She wanted to insist on the street car, but she was too tired. She didn't have the energy to argue. She let him put her into the cab, and leaned back in her corner, her eyes closed, the long dark lashes shadowing her pale cheeks. A tear rolled down her face, and another and another. The physical comfort of the cushioned cab after the long, hard day was suddenly too much for her.
She broke down and cried. Cried for sheer weariness. For old Mr. Greely, and his helplessness, and the saddest of all, Sister Anne who would worry him and boss him and make him miserable. For Ralph McKevitt who was so mysteriously involved with Greely, with Crystal, with mysterious affairs that kept him from her. For this Allan Winters who was taking her home, and whose eyes were as old and tired as Mr. Greely's. Cried for everything and nothing, and couldn't stop once she had started.
"Where did you say, sir?" the taxi man asked again.
Allan, from his corner, took another look at the weeping girl. It was obviously no time to ask her her address, which he had forgotten. He felt in his pockets. A ten dollar bill and some change. "Keep driving—anywhere—it doesn't matter," he said.
They were along the ocean shore somewhere when the gas gave out. The taxi man couldn't believe his bad luck.
Never in all his ten years of taxiing had such a thing happened to him. He scratched his head, and gazed despondently at the empty tank. "How in . . . how did that happen? I started out at 6:15 with a fare for Fifth and Mission and come back and picked up this elderly party and—"
"Oh, go get some gas, and quit talking about it!" Allan growled. After he had gone there was nothing to do but wait. Daphne huddled in her corner, dabbing at her eyes. Allan slumped in his seat. They didn't speak. There was half the width of the seat between them. He felt ridiculous and cheated.
It was a relief when the man came back with some gas in a rusty watering can, borrowed from a grocer a quarter of a mile away. "I can get more gas at the service station down here a ways," he said, "and then where do we go?"
"Home!" Daphne cried quickly. She had no idea how long they had been riding around nor why. She had been too absorbed in her own misery to notice where they had been going, and was conscious for the first time that they were near the ocean, which certainly was not the direct route home.
"It's so late now that we had better get something to eat before I take you home," he said. "We're somewhere near Tai's now. We'll go out there."
Even then she didn't understand. "I didn't know that it was so late," she murmured, fumbling in her pockets for a powder puff.
Her eyes were still very red when they drove through the rustic gate, past the windblown cypresses, and into the sheltered courtyard of the roadhouse. She waited, docile and patient, too tired to care very much where he was taking her, while he paid the taxi man, and furiously counted the change. But when the heavy doors opened and she saw the great open fireplace, with the blazing logs and the big, comfortable chairs before it, and glimpsed the candle-lit tables beyond, she clutched at Allan's arm like a happy child, and whispered, "Oh, isn't this beautiful!"
"Like it?" he grinned back. Funny that Ralph had never brought her here . . . she was looking all around, obviously delighted with everything. Trying to see everything at once, like a country child at a circus.
"And music, too! Look, Allan—they're dancing . . . do you suppose we could go in and have a little black dress! But it doesn't seem just right, does it, for us to be dancing, and poor Mr. Greely so sick?"
Surely this was just "a line," surely she had been here, or other places like it before! Surely Ralph had had her everywhere . . . Ralph . . . ugly thoughts came crowding, worries, fears . . .
"Is something the matter?" she whispered, and he saw her wide gray eyes, that had been dancing and dozing with golden lights, turn dark and pleading.
He pulled himself together. What did it matter anyway? What did anything matter now? The girl with the haunting eyes, and the mouth like a flower was going to be Ralph's . . . and why not? . . . he had everything else. All the breaks, all the luck, let him take the girl, too; make a clean sweep of it . . . "My hard luck, that's all," he thought . . . The orchestra was beginning again. The music flowed into his consciousness, sweetly, gently at first, gaining in volume, growing wilder, more rhythmic, summing to the insistent wailing call of the saxophone, the monotonous primitive beat of the drums . . . He met her eyes. "Dance?"
She stood up, faintly smiling. She was in his arms. The music thrashed, rushed over them, swept them away. The tables blurred, vanished, the other dancers had no reality. They were alone, only the two in a mad, magical world. "I think I'm—dying!" she said, brushing a hand over her eyes when the music stopped quite suddenly, and they were back on earth again, in the middle of a slippery floor.
"It's because you're hungry!" he said quickly, taking her arm and guiding her back to the table. "That was a crazy thing to do—asking you to dance, when you were so tired."
"Oh, but I'm not tired any more," she told him seriously. "All the things I was tired about have—sort of moved away!"
"I know," he answered just as seriously. "The things I had been tired about" had moved away, too. He knew they would be waiting for him, waiting to claim him later. Sinister ghosts that couldn't be laid. Well, let them wait . . . this was his night. The night he would have left to remember . . . afterward . . .
"Well, have the regular dinner," he told the obsequious waiter, "and bring a special order of those big black olives, and is there anything that you like, Daphne?"
She said there wasn't, and he breathed a sigh of relief. He wasn't quite sure there would be enough to meet the bill anyway. Did she have any money in that little red purse of hers? And what would she think if he had to borrow a dollar—or two dollars—or five dollars?
"What are you laughing about?" she demanded, laying down her soup spoon.
"Maybe I'll tell you later, Daphne?"
She nodded. Why eat when you can dance, and you're young, and the music calls?
Other diners watched them but they saw no one, sufficient unto themselves. "Pretty girl, quite an unusual type," a stoutish gourmand in the corner decided, noting the bloom of her delicately rounded cheek. And a youngish woman wrapped in a brilliant Spanish shawl sighed and said, "Look at them. They ought to be put out. They make everyone else look so elderly!"
And then—so unbelievably soon that Allan looked at his watch in amazement—it was over. They must have eaten their dinner, though neither of them had any clear recollection of it, for they weren't hungry, and their empty black-coffee cups were on the table. The waiter presented his bill, and was tipped, and enough over, thank heaven, for a taxi home. The crowd had all melted away. The orchestra was leaving. Sleepy waiters leaned against walls, politely stifling yawns.
In the taxi he sat close beside her, so close that he could feel the warmth of her body, so slender and young. He ached to put his arm about her . . . surely that would be all right, even if she did belong to McKevitt? But he was afraid to. Afraid of breaking the spell. The taxi rattled along a cobble street, bringing them nearer and nearer home. Only a few moments left now, and it would be all over, never to happen again.
He strained his eyes in the darkness, trying to see her once more, trying to impress upon his memory forever every line of her small, wistful face.

Curious Reflection

"Have you seen the Museum ghost?" asked my friend, an Egyptologist, when with him in the Egyptian gallery of the British Museum. We had just passed the empty black basalt coffin of a priest of Ptah, but on looking through the glass case that contained a statue of Isis, he pointed out that the previously empty coffin now held a mysterious figure! My companion's explanation of this somewhat disturbing apparition was that the reflection of an effigy in a coffin on the other side of Isis' case was caught by one glass of the case and thrown by the other right into the vacant coffin of Ptah's priest! The illusion is certainly remarkable.—London Mail.

GROUCH IS A RESULT OF UPSET DIGESTION

United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

"BLUE MONDAY" is famous for its depressing effects. A few people appear to have the blues on Monday and every other day of the week. They are constantly in the dumps.

To them life seems not worth while. Everything and everybody seems to be working against you. An early death or an asylum of some sort is thought to be the only thing left. Life is a failure!

If you ever had the blues you know the symptoms. The funniest joke will not bring a smile—on the contrary it seems stupid to you. You do not enjoy contact with family or friends. All you ask is to be let alone, to die as soon as possible.

Isn't this a dreadful picture? Yet how many times you have gone through just such an experience.

When the cause of these spells commonly called the "blues," is established they will not seem so serious. Nine times out of ten an upset digestive system is the root of the evil.

Indigestion, constipation and the resulting clogging of the system, are the real reasons for your knowing you are going to die.

We must not expect to disregard the laws of nature and still expect good health. You cannot have an unclean intestinal tract and perfect functioning of mind and body. They simply do not mix.

Overeating—eating too much of certain foods such as pies, pastries, rich gravies or meats, a combination of rich foods, will upset the digestive system. You cannot eat three regular meals each day and then eat between meals and before going to bed, without paying the penalty.

A headache, perhaps nausea, the blues and many other symptoms will surely follow such abuse of the body organs. The machinery of digestion and elimination can break down just as machines of wood and metal will when overworked.

Waste no time in correcting the trouble. Take a cathartic like castor oil, follow this with a glass of water or a glass of lemonade. This will reduce your diet to simple liquid or soft food for twenty-four hours.

You will be surprised how soon all your troubles will disappear. The blues will fade away and everything will be rosy.

With this warning from Nature, correct your habits. Eat less often and with more judgment. Take a short brisk walk each day. Exercise your muscles. Occupy your mind with pleasant thoughts—seek pleasant companions and read good books. You will be surprised how such a manner of living will affect your disposition as well as your health.

Answers to Health Queries

H. G. Q.—How can I reduce? Are reducing tablets or preparations harmful in any way?

A.—If you restrict your diet with regard to sweets and starches and take some regular exercise daily you should lose weight and benefit generally. I am not familiar with such preparations, therefore cannot advise you about them.

A Reader. Q.—I am reducing and do a great deal of walking, but as I am inclined to have varicose veins and walking aggravates this trouble I am at a loss to know what to do about it. I am dieting and in addition taking — after meals.

A.—Do not overdo the walking—keep your diet well balanced, limiting the amount of sweets and starches and keep the intestinal tract clear. Wearing a rubber stocking, or bandage on the legs during the day.

Sea's Flower Garden

Although the waters of the sea seem devoid of plant life to the casual observer, there float on the very surface countless billions of microscopic particles and plants that serve to form a marine pasture for the denizens of the deep, says the Boston Evening Transcript.

Beneath the surface of the tropical seas one can find a veritable fairyland in which the flowers are usually biological specimens that gladden the hearts of the scientists, and the erratics are actually living creatures and not merely boulders transported from their original beds by submarine, volcanic or other action.

A country girl, whose imagery was necessarily limited, once in the presence of Gilbert K. Chesterton compared the sea, which she saw for the first time to a cauliflower. At first this seemed ridiculous to the essayist, who is a past master of simile, having once compared his own portly self to a mountain. But after thinking it over, Mr. Chesterton changed his mind about the girl's paucity of imagination. He felt that the image was highly appropriate, suggesting as it did "the wave breaking as well as curling and the efflorescence of the branching foam."—Living Age.

Black Ants Fostered on Cocoa Plantations

"Without Black Ants No Cocoa," reads a sign posted at the entrance of a great plantation in central Java. It does not go unheeded, for the natives hand in some 4,000,000 nests of these little creatures every year, and receive payment in return. These black ants live only upon trees infested by the white cocoa louse. Neither the louse nor the ants injure the trees. The real enemy is a certain beetle whose name is Helopeltis, which attacks the ten plant. It has been found that when the black ants are present the Helopeltis falls to injure the trees. Apparently this sap-sucking pest is disturbed by the activity of the ants, for the latter do not attack the beetle. This is why the black ants are protected. Food is provided for them by picking the white cocoa lice from the shells of the fruit, where they congregate, and placing them on the cocoa trees to attract the ants and disturb the beetles.

Miss Vera Walters Becomes Bride of George Troutman

The wedding service was combined with the evening worship. Rev. N. Mentor of Hope Lutheran church, Columbus, delivered the wedding sermon. Rev. G. J. Troutman, father of the bridegroom, read the wedding rites.

Preceding the service, a musical program was given by Miss Mildred Barthelmas, Rev. Ellis Snyder, and Carl Palm. Miss Barthelmas sang for her solo, "All for You." Rev. Ellis Snyder sang "Beloved it is Morn." Together they sang the duet, "Oh, Lovely Night" from the "Barcarolle." Rev. Snyder also sang the wedding hymn. The church sang an anthem, "Oh Lord Most Holy."

In the bridal procession, the ushers, Ludwig Haacker and Irvin Leist walked first.

Walking next came little Dorothy Walters, niece of the bride, who was flower girl. She carried a basket of pink butterfly rose petals, which she scattered down the aisle.

The ushers, Harry Boyer and Charles Walters, walked next. Mr. John Walters, brother of the bride, gave her away.

Gladden Troutman, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Miss Walters was attended by her sister, Miss Ida Walters, and Miss Sophia Parks. Miss Ida Walters wore a blue green taffeta gown. She carried flesh rose buds. Miss Parks wore a peach pink taffeta frock. She carried pink roses.

The brides costume was a white crepe dress with lace insertion. Her veil of lace and tulle was caught into a cap shape. Her flowers were lilies of the valley and white rose buds. The necklace she wore was brought from Stuttgart, Germany, by the bridegroom. The suit worn by the bridegroom was woven and made in the Holy Land.

About 600 friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, after which, the newly married couple and their immediate families went to the bride's home where a delicious two course salad luncheon was served. The home was beautifully decorated with fern and sweet peas. The pink and green color scheme was carried out. At the bride's table was a bouquet of four leaf clovers which had been found by Miss Sophia Parks and Miss Lottie Walters.

Immediately after luncheon, the couple left for an eastern motor

Those present at the luncheon were Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Troutman, Mrs. Mena Troutman, grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. R. P. Fellmeth and daughter, Anna Marie, of Butler, Pa. Rev. and Mrs. George Schuster of Greenville, O., Mr. Jacob Walters, Misses Lottie and Ida Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Festus Walters, Mr. and Mrs. John Walters and daughter, Dorothy, of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Walters and son, Martin of Akron, Rev. and Mrs. George L. Troutman, Messrs. Carl Palm, Harry Boyer, Irvin Leist, Charles Walters, Gladden Troutman, Ludwig Haacker, Rev. and Mrs. N. Mentor, Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Snyder, of Columbus, Miss Sophia Parks and Miss Mildred Barthelmas.

LAST MEETING DURING SUMMER

Circleville Chapter No. 90, O. E. S. will hold the last meeting before summer vacation on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no meeting held during the months of July and August. There is business of importance to be considered at his time. After the meeting there will be a short program and light refreshments will be served to Eastern Stars.

All members having dishes or cooking utensils belonging to the Chapter are urged to return them at this time.

PLAN OLD STYLE BOX SOCIAL

A box social will be given by the Alumni Association of the Pickaway-twp school next Thursday night, June 27. This revival of an old time social custom is arousing much interest, and the social Thursday night will be conducted after the manner of those so popular some years ago. The girls will prepare box lunches picnic fashion, for two. The men will buy the boxes and eat lunch with the girls whose box he buys. Everyone who takes advantage of this function is promised a most pleasant evening.

PAST CHIEFS' CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

The Past Chiefs' club was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Curtis Burkhead Friday night. This meeting was attended by 15 members of the club, who enjoyed meeting for the business session and the social hour which followed. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

GIVES MEN RIDE; ROBBED, BEATEN

C. W. Davis, 22, of E. Logan-st., reported to Officer William McCrady Sunday morning that when he and Kenneth Sowers, Ashville, were returning from Columbus late Saturday night they were beaten and robbed by four men whom they had given a "lift."

Davis said he picked up the four men in South Columbus. After they had ridden about a half mile, Davis said they attacked him and Sowers, robbing him of $7.50 in cash and a check for $11.15 signed by Noah Spangler. He said the four men were tall and were hatless and coatless.

Two black eyes and a badly cut face were offered by Davis as evidence of the beating he said he received.

TWO MEN SNATCH PURSE OF WOMAN

When Mrs. Nolan Sims, 118 Pleasant-st., and Mrs. Zula Williams, of Akron, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ernest Gold-frederick, were returning home about 10:30 p. m. Saturday, a pocketbook was snatched from Mrs. Sims at Court and Pleasant-sts by one of two men who fled, according to the report she made to the police.

As the women passed them, one of the men, who is believed to be colored, grabbed Mrs. Sims and snatched her pocketbook. When she screamed both fled. The pocketbook contained less than $1 in change.

County and city officers were notified but an intensive search failed to locate them.

In Open Battle

Joe Turnesa's middle name should be "Courage" because the tall, slim ex-caddy from Westchester always shows to the best advantage when the competition is the toughest. Look at his finish in the Yorkshire Purse in England, when he was dormie three to Herbert Jolly. Joe went out and won four straight holes with an eagle on the last one to win the big end of the purse. He needs something big to shoot at and doesn't have much success in the smaller tournaments. With more than a million Frigidaires in use we announce a second National "Cold Control" Demonstration

See the "Cold Control" in actual operation. See how delicious frozen desserts are made. Taste them. Get the free souvenir book containing recipes. See the "Million Model" Frigidaire now on special display for the first time in this city. Will you be our guest?

Starting Tuesday for 8 days only

The "Million Model" Frigidaire AP-4. Finished in porcelain enamel inside and out. Only $295* puts it in your home.

Frigidaire has the "Cold Control" for faster freezing of ice cubes and desserts. This is in addition to the standard temperature regulator which automatically holds an even temperature in the food compartment.

PEOPLE everywhere are talking about the sensational Frigidaire "Cold Control." People everywhere want to see it. They want to know more about it. They want to find out what it does. Never in the history of electric refrigeration has any single improvement created such widespread enthusiasm. It has helped make possible the sale of the millionth Frigidaire.

So again we are giving a special 8-day demonstration. We are showing how the "Cold Control" gives faster freezing of ice cubes, salads and desserts. We are showing how it gives you Frigidaire-frozen delicacies that could never be made before. We are showing how it adds to the pleasure and convenience of automatic refrigeration.

There's a dirty ring around your washtubs

It comes from the hard water you use to wash clothes in. Soap and hard water combine to make scum. The scum collects dirt. Part forms a dirty ring. Much gets into the fabric of the clothes. It makes them hard to wash snowy white.

But soften the water with MeLo and no scum forms. No dirty ring. No grayish white clothes. MeLo and water is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It saves soap, too, from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap more effective. It makes clothes white. Get it at your grocer's.

Miss Vera Walters Becomes Bride of George Troutman

Sunday evening at Trinity Lutheran church, before an altar banked with palms, ferns, and bouquets of rioting colored garden flowers, Miss Vera L. Walters, daughter of Mr. Jacob Walters, became the bride of Rev. George L. Troutman, son of Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Troutman.

The wedding service was combined with the evening worship. Rev. N. Mentor of Hope Lutheran church, Columbus, delivered the wedding sermon. Rev. G. J. Troutman, father of the bridegroom, read the wedding rites.

Preceding the service, a musical program was given by Miss Mildred Barthelmas, Rev. Ellis Snyder, and Carl Palm. Miss Barthelmas sang for her solo, "All for You." Rev. Ellis Snyder sang "Beloved it is Morn." Together they sang the duet, "Oh Lovely Night" from the "Barcarolle." Rev. Snyder also sang the wedding hymn. The church sang an anthem, "Oh Lord Most Holy."

In the bridal procession, the ushers, Ludwig Haecker and Irvin Leist walked first.

Walking next came little Dorothy Walters, niece of the bride, who was flower girl. She carried a basket of pink butterfly rose petals, which she scattered down the aisle.

Anna Marie Fellmeth of Butler, Pa., cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. The double ring ceremony was used. She carried the rings in pink rose buds.

The ushers, Harry Boyer and Charles Walters, walked next.

Mr. John Walters, brother of the bride, gave her away.

Gladden Troutman, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Miss Walters was attended by her sister, Miss Ida Walters, and Miss Sophia Parks. Miss Ida Walters wore a blue gown with a white sash. She carried a pink rose. The brides costume was a white crepe dress with lace insertion. Her veil of lace and tulle was caught into a cap shape. Her flowers were lilies of the valley and white rose buds. The necklace she wore was brought from Stuttgart, Germany, by the bridegroom. The suit worn by the bridegroom was woven and made in the Holy Land.

About 600 friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, after which, the newly married couple and their immediate families went to the bride's home where a delicious two course salad luncheon was served. The home was beautifully decorated with fern and sweet peas. The pink and green color scheme was carried out. At the bride's table was a bouquet of four leaf clovers which had been found by Miss Sophia Parks and Miss Lottie Walters.

LAST MEETING DURING SUMMER

Circleville Chapter No. 90, O. E. S. will hold the last meeting before summer vacation on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no meeting held during the months of July and August. There is business of importance to be considered at this time. After the meeting there will be a short program and light refreshments will be served to Eastern Stars.

All members having dishes or cooking utensils belonging to the Chapter are urged to return them at this time.

PLAN OLD STYLE BOX SOCIAL

A box social will be given by the Alumni Association of the Pickaway-twp school next Thursday night, June 27. This revival of an old time social custom is arousing much interest, and the social Thursday night will be conducted after the manner of those so popular some years ago. The girls will prepare box lunches picnic fashion, for two. The men will buy the boxes and eat lunch with the girl whose box he buys. Everyone who takes advantage of this function is promised a most pleasant evening.

PAST CHIEF'S CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

The Past Chiefs' club was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Curtis Burkhead Friday night. This meeting was attended by 15 members of the club, who enjoyed meeting for the business session and the social hour which followed. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

ALL DAY PICNIC IS BEING PLANNED

The Past Chiefs' club from this district will have their annual all day picnic on Wednesday, June 26, at Williamsport. All Pythian sisters and their families are cordially invited to attend, and are asked to bring basket dinners and to meet at the Pythian Temple in Williamsport at 10:00 a. m.

Dry Wouldn't Stand for Shooting

Louis H. Jacques, right, former patrol leader in the customs service at Detroit, Mich., is again a private citizen since he resigned his dry snooping job because he "couldn't stand for the promiscuous shooting which already has cost the lives of too many innocent people." Representative R. H. Clancy of Michigan is congratulating him on his spirit and courage he showed in his resignation.

Three hundred guests were present at the dinner, to hear the speaker of the evening, who was Dr. Maria Castellani of Rome, Italy. This young Italian woman, who is an actress, has come to this country to appear on the International Night program at the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, to be held at Mackinac Island, Michigan, in July.

HOME FROM COLLEGE FOR WEDDING

Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Virginia Marion and Miss Adah Burgett, who are attending summer school at the Wittenberg College in Springfield, O., were home for the week-end, to attend the wedding of Miss Vera Walters and Rev. George Troutman, which was solemnized Sunday evening at the Trinity Lutheran church at 6:30 o'clock.

MARRIAGE OF INTEREST HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mr. Dennis Bryant son of the former Miss Allie Albright of Kinston, to Miss Bess M. Watts, daughter of the former Otis Reynolds. Miss Watts is the niece of Robert Reed, and is a graduate of Kingston high school.

DINNER GUESTS IN COLUMBUS

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Bowers and daughters, Mary Jane and Joanne and Florence Mildred, and Mrs. Margaret Smith were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Duper of Columbus. While in that city they also visited Bobby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Matheeny, at White Cross hospital, who is convalescing from a recent operation.

ATTENDS SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Mrs. C. E. Hill of Williamsport, attended a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. R. H. Trimble at her home in Mt. Sterling, Monday, honoring Miss Hulda Mae Graham, a bride-to-be.

Miss Graham is a niece of Mrs. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Snider, of Marion, Ohio, were the week-end guests of Mrs. Snider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Voll.

GIVES MEN RIDE; ROBBED, BEATEN

C. W. Davis, 22, of E. Logan-st., reported to Officer William McCrady Sunday morning that when he and Kenneth Sowers, Ashville, were returning from Columbus late Saturday night they were beaten and robbed by four men whom they had given a "lift."

Davis said he picked up the four men in South Columbus. After they had ridden about a half mile, Davis said they attacked him and Sowers, robbing him of $7.50 in cash and a check for $11.15 signed by Noah Spangler. He said the four men were tall and were hatless and coatless.

TWO MEN SNATCH PURSE OF WOMAN

When Mrs. Nolan Sims, 118 Pleasant-st., and Mrs. Zula Williams, of Akron, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ernest Gold-frederick, were returning home about 10:30 p. m. Saturday, a pocketbook was snatched from Mrs. Sims at Court and Pleasant-sts by one of two men who fled, according to the report she made to the police.

As the women passed them, one of the men, who is believed to be colored, grabbed Mrs. Sims and snatched her pocketbook. When she screamed both fled. The pocketbook contained less than $1 in change.

County and city officers were notified but an intensive search failed to locate them.

In Open Battle

Joe Turnesa's middle name should be "Courage" because the tall, slim ex-caddy from Westchester always shows to the best advantage when the competition is the toughest. Look at his finish in the Yorkshire Purse in England, when he was dormie three to Herbert Jolly. Joe went out and won four straight holes with an eagle on the last one to win the big end of the purse. He needs something big to shoot at and doesn't have much success in the smaller tournaments. Joe is hardly more than a youngster, but is coming along so fast that he will set a pretty fast pace in the open at the Wingfoot course in Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Mrs. James L. Watson, of Toledo, O., is visiting Miss Mary Foreman of E. Main-st.

Felix Smith has returned to New York City after a visit in Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Doty of Columbus, formerly of this city, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Ritt of N. Court-st.

Oscar Scott entertained visitors over the week end.

PERSONALS

C. G. Schulze, president of the Third National Bank, is ill at his home on S. Court-st.

Mame Stephens and Mrs. Francis J. Droila, of Columbus spent Monday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Stephens of E. High-st.

Mrs. J. C. Rader, Mrs. T. D. Krinn, Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson and Jimmie Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Snider, of Marion, Ohio, went to Somerset, Sunday, where Mr. Snider's uncle, Rev.

James B. Walker, was ordained a priest of the Dominican Order. He said his first solemn High Mass there.

Miss Erma Rader of Northridge-rd, entered the College of Education at the Ohio State university, Columbus, Monday morning.

With more than a million Frigidaires in use we announce a second National "Cold Control" Demonstration

See the "Cold Control" in actual operation. See how delicious frozen desserts are made. Taste them. Get the free souvenir book containing recipes. See the "Million Model" Frigidaire now on special display for the first time in this city. Will you be our guest?

Starting Tuesday
for 8 days only

The "Million Model" Frigidaire AP-4. Finished in porcelain enamel inside and out. Only $205 puts it in your home.

Frigidaire has the "Cold Control" for faster freezing of ice cubes and desserts. This is in addition to the standard temperature regulator which automatically holds an even temperature in the food compartment.

PEOPLE everywhere are talking about the sensational Frigidaire "Cold Control." People everywhere want to see it. They want to know more about it. They want to find out what it does. Never in the history of electric refrigeration has any single improvement created such widespread enthusiasm. It has helped make possible the sale of the millionth Frigidaire.

So again we are giving a special 8-day demonstration. We are showing how the "Cold Control" gives faster freezing of ice cubes, salads and desserts. We are showing how it gives you Frigidaire-frozen delicacies that could never be made before. We are showing how it adds to the pleasure and convenience of automatic refrigeration.

Spend at least a few minutes in our display room sometime this week. We will be open evenings until 10 o'clock.
